

2-17-2014

A Trip to Cork!

Jenna Elkjer
Linfield College

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/intl_postcards_1314

Recommended Citation

Elkjer, Jenna, "A Trip to Cork!" (2014). 2013-14 Postcards. Article. Submission 7.
http://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/intl_postcards_1314/7

This Article is brought to you for free via open access, courtesy of DigitalCommons@Linfield. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@linfield.edu.

A Trip to Cork!

02/17/2014

A group of Linfield students visiting the Blarney Castle!

Time has been going by fast here in Galway! It is hard to believe that we have been here for over a month now. I have to say that I am happy about knowing my way around and being in the swing of things. The weather has not been forgiving over the last few weeks, but I am hoping that it can only get better from here.

Although it is cold and rainy, I have been able to see some really cool places recently! Last weekend, I went to Cork through the International Student Society. I stayed in my first hostel and I have to say that it was not as bad as I thought! It is a great way to meet a lot of new people from all over the world. My group also went to the Blarney castle and kissed the Blarney stone! As much of a touristy thing it was, I loved exploring the castle and the park surrounding it.

Galway is still my favorite place in Ireland and I love the city more and more every time I visit Shop Street. There is always new food to try and music to listen to! There is a great mix of touristy things to do along with getting to experience the local culture.

Jenna