

Quercus: Linfield Journal of Undergraduate Research Author Agreement

Quercus: Linfield Journal of Undergraduate Research publishes original, peer-reviewed, student research from all fields represented at Linfield College.

Authors give Quercus: Linfield Journal of Undergraduate Research and DigitalCommons@Linfield the non-exclusive, irrevocable right to copy, distribute, display, and publish their work, and to migrate it in the future as needed to keep the content available in accessible, online format. Authors also allow Linfield College to feature parts or all of this work in its publications, accompanied by proper attribution to the author.

Unless otherwise specified, works in Quercus: Linfield Journal of Undergraduate Research are licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 License (see <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/>). Authors should be aware that some other journals may require exclusive rights to publish research and are advised to investigate the conditions imposed by any other journals in which they may wish to publish.

Contributions must be original, and proper attribution in quoting or referencing others' material must be given. Additionally, reuse of work from another source may require permission of the copyright holder. In preparing bibliographies or lists of references for your work, authors should consult with their mentors regarding formatting guidelines for their disciplines.

Quercus: Linfield Journal of Undergraduate Research will not accept for review or publish manuscripts without receiving this form signed by all authors of the manuscript and the mentor of the submitting author.

NOTICE OF APPROVAL TO USE HUMAN SUBJECTS BY THE LINFIELD COLLEGE INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH BOARD (IRB):

If your research includes human subjects, you must include a letter of approval from the IRB. For more information, see <http://www.linfield.edu/irb/>.
