

9-11-2014

Tim Tams Make the World Go Round

Mikhale McCarrel
Linfield College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/intl_postcards_1415

Recommended Citation

McCarrel, Mikhale, "Tim Tams Make the World Go Round" (2014). 2014-15 Postcards. Article. Submission 10.

https://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/intl_postcards_1415/10

This Article is protected by copyright and/or related rights. It is brought to you for free via open access, courtesy of DigitalCommons@Linfield, with permission from the rights-holder(s). Your use of this Article must comply with the Terms of Use for material posted in DigitalCommons@Linfield, or with other stated terms (such as a Creative Commons license) indicated in the record and/or on the work itself. For more information, or if you have questions about permitted uses, please contact digitalcommons@linfield.edu.

2014-08-11 Tim Tams Make the World Go Round

Up close with a kangaroo at Billabong Sanctuary!

Hello again!

I can hardly believe it has almost been exactly a month since Maddy and I departed on our semester to Australia. And let me tell you, it has been amazing, a whirlwind of sun, classes, animals, friends, and food. Homesickness still has not hit me, but the key to that is staying busy, which I am doing 24/7!

Although it is winter here (and it does get dark early), I have enjoyed exploring the great outdoors of Australia! Some things I would recommend doing that I have previously done are: Billabong Sanctuary (kangaroos, emus, wallabies running around everywhere, etc.), Castle Hill during the day and at night, Crystal Creek, going to the Kotters Market on Flinders Street: they have amazing fruit such as star fruit, custard apples, paw paw, and sugar bananas. I have eaten kangaroo kabobs (very chewy!) and eaten all different kinds of fish: salt and pepper calamari and mackerel being some of them. I have been to a Cowboys rugby game as well: rugby is similar to football, except you can only pass the ball backwards and the point system is a bit different. Balgal Beach is a place I definitely recommend! There are beautiful shells and amazing sand.

Until next time,

Mikhale