PROF. COE TO LEAVE

Accepts Principalship of Keystone Academy

At the chapel service on April 2, Professor Coe announced that as a result of his recent Eastern trip, he had accepted a position as principal of Keystone academy at Factoryville, Pa. The trustees of the Academy had asked him to come to Factoryville with a view to accepting the principalship of that institution. Professor Coe was much pleased with Keystone academy which is the only Baptist academy in the state of Pennsylvania. It is a prosperous institution with an attractive campus and modern buildings. Under the leadership of Professor Coe we predict for Keystone academy a very bright future.

Professor Coe came to McMinnville in the fall of 1907 from Wood Island, Alaska, where he was for a number of years at the head of the Kodiak Baptist orphanage. Since then he has been the principal of the Academy and head of the Education Department of McMinnville College. Three years ago he was elected to the position of Registrar of the college which office he holds at the present time. The resignation of Professor Coe from the faculty of McMinnville college is keenly regretted by faculty and students alike. All who are acquainted with the college appreciate his value as a teacher and administrator. Each member of the student body feels that in Professor Coe he has a friend whose helpful encouragement and advice are his for the asking. Professor

TRIANGULAR DEBATE A SUCCESS

Negative Wins at Forest Grove

WILLAMETTE TAKES FIRST

The triangular debate between Willamette, P. U., and McMinnville was held on Saturday night, April 3, with a debate at each one of the schools. The triangular scheme proved to be a good one and it is hoped that debate among the schools will be stimulated yet further in the future.

Of our two teams the affirmative debated at home in the chapel against Willamette. It was a good debate and proved very interesting to those that were in attendance. The decision, however, was given in favor of Willamette. Our negative went down to P. U. and an excellent debate was held there with the decision in doubt to the last. It was a hard fought battle but our debaters pulled down a victory for Old Mac. Ralph Doud and Sylvester Cross upheld the affirmative side at home while Paul Jackson and Charles Davis brought glory upon themselves and the institution in successfully upholding the negative side at P. U.

If the results of the debates are to be considered the United States will not assume mandatory control of Mexico as the negative team won in each debate. In the final decision, however, Willamette came first with 5 points, Pacific University second with 4 points and McMinnville third with 3 points. The decisions were arrived at by counting the judges votes, as well as the victories.

After the debate at P. U. the delegation from McMinnville was given a reception at Herrick hall by the students of Pacific university. It was greatly enjoyed by the McMinnville students and tended to stimulate a closer spirit between the two schools.

The judges for the debate at McMinnville were principal of the High school at Newberg, Mr. Wright, and Guy Brace, instructor in the High school, and Mr. Dennis, a lawyer from Carlton.

The judges for the debate at P. U. were three Portland men, Rabbi Jonat B. Wise, Mr. Watts of the Metropolitan Life and Mr. Hansen of the Y. M. C. A.

STUDENT BODY CELEBRATION

College Has Gay Affair

135 DOLLARS MADE

During these days when the High cost of living is reigning supreme it is not to be wondered at that even the coffers of the Associated Student Body begin to suffer from lack of the usual wealth they are wont to hold at this time of the school year.

Upon hearing the treasurer's report it was plainly evident that something had to be done immediately. Suggestions were offered, committees appointed, plans made, and the result—the successful A. S. B. fete at the Music hall Wednesday evening, April 7. Almost the whole student body was present to participate in the jollification, and we noted with pleasure that there were also townpeople there.

After satisfying the agent at the gate with a small piece of silver, it was difficult to pass up the neighborly salesmen with their interesting wares. Thus coins were lavishly spent for caps, squawkers, candy and all the other enticing articles.

The cafeteria was a huge success, fine cooks, good service and appetizing food all featured prominently. Then, of course, there was Madam Yogi, the palmist, whose tepee was very popular throughout the whole evening. The vaudeville show was the cleverest of its kind we had ever seen. The Japanese quartette and the two shows occasioned much laughter. We are grateful to the company for its clever choice of actors and actresses, and especially for "Little Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The minstrel show was the real thing tho and drew big crowds at every performance. Then there were all the clever side shows, Japanese gardens, the museum, drama, baby show, trained mice, Hawaiian retreat, and electrical display. Lucky the students whose coins held out long enough for them to take in every feature of the big fete.

Soon after eight o'clock the jollification was over so the students could prepare the next day's lesson. If success is to be interpreted in terms of dollars and cents the one hundred and thirty dollars or more that the A. S. B. now has as a result of the celebration speaks louder than words. But it was a decided success in every way and those that were unable to be present certainly missed something big. Much credit is due to that faithful committee who planned the whole fete, and likewise to all the participants and last but not least to all the generous pocketbooks of the assembled crowd. Hereafter when A. S. B. finances are reported low there will be no feeling of alarm for all will remember the successful A. S. B. Fete of 1920.

MAY QUEEN NOW ELECTED

Popular Senior Receives Honor

LULU COE TO BE QUEEN OF FESTIVE DAY

All hail to the new Queen of May. After the usual suspense Miss Lulu Coe, popular Senior girl, was elected to be crowned Queen of May for this year.

May Day this year is to be the biggest and best ever as the plans are already beginning to be laid. The order is in with the weather man for good weather. All who have seen or heard of this May Day celebration in McMinnville college know that it is one of the outstanding days of the college year and one of the biggest, and this one is to be the best ever.

This custom of a May Queen is old at McMinnville but dear to the hearts of many and each year the students thru their vote add to the list of gracious queens the one best fitted to rule. Surrounded by her court the queen of may commands the respect of all her loyal subjects. And this day of celebration is declared an annual holiday and a glad and joyous day for all.

On the preceding Thursday the students of the college gather on the campus and spend the entire day in decorating for the big event. Early on the Friday morning comes the coronation ceremonies, the queen's proclamations and some tennis games. The afternoons are dedicated to baseball games and track meets and the evening to some other form of entertainment. And thru it all the gracious queen rules, admired and respected by all, showing a fine combination of charm and splendid personality which entitles her to be the queen and sit on the throne.

Our queen elect is well fitted to occupy the throne this year, she is one of the most popular young women in college; a loyal friend of all and has a winning way and a personal charm about her which go to make her well qualified for this highest of honors which the students are giving to her. All thru her career at McMinnville, Miss Coe has been a loyal upholder and booster for the standards and ideals of McMinnville. She has been very active in all the A. S. B. affairs and also the functions of the church and all social functions. During the past year she has very successfully filled the position of president of the Y. W. C. A.

We bespeak for Princess Lulu I one of the greatest and the biggest and best May Days in the history of the institution, the loyal support of every student and of all her subjects, and a glad and joyous day for all who enter into the festivities of the day. And so, "long live Princess Lulu, soon to be crowned Queen Lulu I," the gracious queen of May.

Conquest Class Notes

Spring with its spring bonnets is here and they were all out to conquest the last two Sundays. Conquest class is coming into its own and bids fair to pass any previous record of attendance for the spring term.

Professor Van Osdel is bringing us some fine messages each Sunday that you can't afford to miss.

Have you read Jimmy Moore of Bucktown? I you haven't come to conquest and listen to it. A chapter is read each Sunday. It is good, ask those that were there.

Leisure and Health

In the first place we should be careful not to confuse leisure with idleness—in truth, they are poles apart. And no less different are they in their influence on the physical well being of man. Idleness is one of the greatest enemies of health; leisure is one of its essential conditions. A very large proportion of the almost chronic state of ill health which is the lot of so large a number of poor people is directly traceable to the absence of true leisure in their lives. It is of the very essence of leisure that one shall be and feel free to exercise just those faculties of the body and mind which call out for exercise. It is in this freedom and this chosen exercise that the pleasure-giving quality of leisure lies; and herein is one of the great values of true education. By all round and justly proportioned development of the mind, body and emotions we are placed in a position to use leisure wisely and happily.—Scotsman.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Rich Chosen President

March 31, the Y. M. C. A. elected Mark Rich as president and Paul Jackson as vice-president for the rest of this year and next year. There was no election of either secretary or treasurer. April 7 Bellvin Vincent was elected secretary and Oscar Meddaugh, treasurer.

On March 31, Mark Rich led a live discussion for a few minutes of Seabeck. Several men who went to Seabeck told why they enjoyed it and recommend it.

April 7, Professor Van Osdel led, giving suggestions for the coming year. He reminded us how the attendance dwindles from the first of the year to the last. He told us of different bases for Y. M. C. A. membership. In some colleges and universities everyone in school is a member, in others everyone who pays a dollar is a member. Shall our Y. M. C. A. program be intensive or extensive? We want to appeal to everybody, but if our meetings appealed to all we would lose some things. The chapel services are for all. The ministerials and student volunteers are intensive. Why not try to build up our Y. M. C. A. from an inner circle of men who are striving to live the Christian life? He suggested heart to heart testimonies of problems and victories in the Christian life, and to swing back to the extreme evangelical style.

The general discussion brought up several questions. Our disintegration makes us feel we are losing ground. If we wait too long to get fellows into the Y. M. C. A., they will be tied up with other things. Money could be raised by pledges. Y. M. men should help the new students and be more in evidence on registration day.

Phi Spsilon

Friday evening we met with Belvin Vincent before Pinafore for a social hour. Needless to say time did not drag heavily as Sam Simpson and Arnold Shotwell were on hand and were prevailed upon to relate experiences of war times. Bert Cash and Ray Vester were also with us.

Second Student: "No, that is the temperature of the laboratory."

Miss Naomi Davis, an associate member, entertained the fraternity at her home Saturday evening, April 3. Business occupied the first part of the evening and then all cares were forgotten as the little Easter surprises she had planned for us were enjoyed. Even the nests with the hidden Easter eggs were there and lucky the lady who discovered what was in the box under the nest. But according to all rules and regulations hunting must cease at eleven o'clock so the rest of the eggs remained safe in their hiding places.

Former Student Dies

Mr. Emilio Dayot, '15, recently died in Seattle. After graduation at McMinnville, Mr. Dayot worked in Portland, Seattle and Alaska. He received a government scholarship from the Philippines last fall and had been planning to take his medical course in the east this summer. Many friends keenly feel the loss by the sudden death of this student friend.

Seniors

At a recent meeting of the senior class, Irl McSherry was elected class orator. At this meeting it was also made known that the honors of valedictorian and salutatorian belonged to Beulah Kenyon and Margaret Ramsey respectively. Notice the new rings being worn about the campus? Now don't get excited, they are only the new senior class rings. The class is buzzing with plans which are to be more completely worked out this evening at the meeting to be held at the Ramsey home.

Selfishness

If you can step aside to let another pass you on the way
 And watch him win the goal he seeks and have no bitter word to say;
 If you can stop along the road to help
 another in distress
 And never count the time you spend as lost unto your own success,
 Then 'spite of all that may befall of failure's frown or fortune's smile
 You've reached the height of manhood
 here and learned to make your life worth while.

The clutch of selfishness is strong;
 men wish to gain before they give;
 When we are living at our best we grant another's right to live,
 But few of us will bear the blows and face the tempest and the storm
 And shiver with the winter's cold, to keep a fellow being warm.
 And few of us will step aside to help
 by deed or kindly speech
 Another man unto the goal which he is striving hard to reach.

If you can step aside and lose your own brief moment to succeed
 And let its fame and fortune go to help another man in need.
 Can see your dreams of glory fade and never stop to count the cost
 And hold the cause which you have served more pressing than the goal you've lost,
 You've reached the height of manhood
 here and many prayers your life shall bless
 And you shall stand before your God as one who conquered selfishness.

For the G. M. C.

1. Make a list of all the people you know who should come here to college next year.
2. Be ready to do your part in writing to these people, especially when a letter writing week is announced.
3. Work out a plan for a good advertising scheme to get new students or to make the college better known.
4. Take a birdseye view of the college year and notice the things which you liked best and the things which you think could be improved.
5. Be generous with your ideas and give other people, the council at least, a chance to profit by them.
6. Watch the Review for announcement.

Old J. Pluvius has been quite a factor to contend with this spring so far as athletics are concerned, but if he can dampen the track and field he cannot dampen our ardor in getting out some of the best teams in Mac's history. Track team workouts will be in full swing during the coming week and hard work will be in order in anticipation of coming meets. There have been three meets scheduled so far and one other school is yet to be heard from. With the nucleus of old men to start with and some very promising material among the new men we should get out a team this year that will make the other schools in the valley sit up and take notice.

Are You One of the 37 Per Cent?

One of the most disagreeable and inconvenient circumstances that can overtake the individual or the organization is financial embarrassment, and the sooner the individual or the organization inaugurates measures to prevent such an inconvenience, the better for all concerned. Why should our student body find it necessary to stage a college fete? Lack of funds is generally due to under-capitalization, lack of co-operation, or inefficiency. Certainly our student body is not guilty of the latter for we firmly believe in the ability of the present administration.

However, it is safe to say, that under present conditions the annual capitalization of the student body is insufficient to meet the present demands. It is likewise a fact that there is a decided lack of cooperation on the part of a large number of our students. This year only 63 per cent of the student body have purchased student body tickets. Where is the trouble? How about the other 37 per cent? They are enjoying the benefits of student activities and as some of us believe are not contributing their just share toward the support of such activities.

According to the provision of our new constitution, the fee for the student body ticket has been raised to $5.00. Certainly this is not too much to ask any student to contribute, to support those activities that vitalize his life for nine long school months. Heretofore, it has been a case of "help if you will," but why not now while the constitution is in the process of the making, have it made compulsory to purchase a student body ticket. It could quite easily be made a part of the registration fee, and collected at that time. Such action would save the student body from future embarrassment, and would provide the organization with sufficient funds to cope with the regular requirements and be in a position to meet an occasional emergency. Surely this is desirable, and ought to enlist the serious consideration of every thinking student.

PROFANITY

By Dr. Frank Crane

The trouble with profanity is not so much that it is wicked, as that it is just plain dirty.

It is not so much that you shock religious people as that you disgust decent people, that we object to it.

Swearers are behind the times. They are hold-overs from a former century.

Nowadays anybody who swears is set down at once as being coarse and vulgar.

The young man who wants to succeed needs to take advantage of everything that may help him on. And swearing will be a black mark against him in any job he may have.

And if he wants to associate with the right sort of girls he must keep his talk clean.

Nobody wants a swearer in the office, nor in the workshop, nor on the train, nor in the hotel. The only place swearing fits is in the saloon.

Swearing means you don't know how to talk. Your vocabulary is limited. It is the sign of ignorance.

Swearing means weakness. You will notice that forceful men, whose words carry weight, use simple, plain words.

When you swear it shows your impotence. It is the petty refuge of the helpless. If you can help a thing, help it; if not, keep still; anyway, don't swear.

Swearing has bad kin. It goes with ignorance, brutality, cruelty, drunkenness, licentiousness, viciousness, and anger. And you can tell a habit by the company it keeps.

Swearing that is the sudden, impulsive exclamation is not so bad compared with swearing that has become a vile habit. And when a man gets the habit of sprinkling oaths through his speech constantly he ought to be tied out in the barn with the pigs.

To abstain from swearing does not mean you are a sissy. It simply means you're decent.

To show you are manly, you don't have to have a dirty face, nor black finger nails, nor greasy clothes, nor tousled hair. You can be manly though clean. And you are not showing any manliness by filthy talk.

Even if you want to hurt anybody's feelings, or insult any one the worst way, use plain English; it hurts much more than curses.

Altogether, swearing is a useless, unclean, and offensive habit.

Quit it!

The horse fly has no hoofs on its complacent feet. The angle worm is full of curves, without a corner neat. The bumble-bee is not a bum, the hornet has no horn; the yellow-jacket wears no clothes, the pieplant grows no crust. The rubber plant cannot be stretched, the gold bug has no dust, a lighting plant grows not from roots, a jail bird has no wings. A baseball diamond's on the square, and so are all prize rings.

Pro: "Johnny, are you chewing gum?"

Johnny: "No, sir; I'm a boy."

The Future Newspaper

The newspaper office in the future, according to Oscar Roesen, vice-president of R. Hoe & Son, press builders, will be one without presses, casting boxes, typesetting machines or any of the other machines so common in a newspaper office today. His prediction is that a newspaper office will be composed of a large room filled with telegraph instruments and operators, each instrument connected with thousands of wires forming a cable running under ground to the houses of all subscribers, with a stock ticket printing arrangement connected by a wire with the main instrument in the publication office. Before the subscriber goes to bed he puts in a fresh sheet of paper, and while he sleeps the news is printed on the sheet and read at his breakfast. Some service.

Coe's resignation will leave a place on the faculty that will be very hard to fill. His activities are not confined to the college but his influence is felt in the community and especially in the church. For several years he has served as pastor of the nearby church at Fairview. Professor Coe and his family expect to leave for Factoryville early in June. They will carry with them the affectionate good wishes of their many friends in McMinnville who wish for them great joy and success in their new work.

Little Drops of Water

It has been stated that people are as ignorant of the size of the sea as they are of matters dealing with astronomy.

Few are aware, for instance, that the Pacific ocean covers 68,000,000 miles; the Atlantic 30,000,000 miles, and the Indian ocean, Arctic, and Antarctic 42,000,000.

To stow away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, one mile wide, and one mile deep, every day for 440 years. Put in figures, the Pacific holds in weight 984,000,000,000,000,000 tons.

The Atlantic averages a depths of not quite three miles. Its waters weigh 325,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain it would have each of its sides 43 miles long.

The Lambdas gathered at Bernice Varney's Saturday evening, April 3. After pledging Miss Corbett, we had a short but interesting business meeting. We left early in order to go to the debate.

The home of Lulu Coe was the scene of our meeting on the evening of Saturday, April 10. Miss Corbett received the final degree. Business occupied a part of the time after which Lulu served some very dainty refreshments. As we parted it was with a feeling of joy because of the happy time we had had; yet we were sorry to think that the term was so near its close.

A few of the members who had not left for vacation met on March 19 at our usual meeting place. After a short session we went to Professor Gardiner's to present a birthday remembrance from the fraternity and leave our best wishes for future birthdays. We certainly feel highly honored that Professor Gardiner, the oldest member on the faculty, is numbered one of us, and we hope that he will be with us for many more years.

Shipley-Dielschneider

A very happy spring wedding was that of Mr. Cordis Shipley and Miss Aileen Dielschneider, which event took place at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, April 30, at eight o'clock.

The church was beautifully decorated in festoons and arches of Oregon grape, with spring flowers and Callallilies and singing birds and added to the joyousness of the occasion. A short musical program preceded the ceremony, with Miss Audrey Dielschneider at the pipe organ, and the Misses Ballard with their violins. "At Dawning" was very impressively sung by Richard Gray, and then the organ peeled forth the Lohengrin wedding march. The bridal party, when in place at the altar, was certainly a very beautiful one and made a picture long to be remembered. The personnel of the party was as follows: Rev. W. E. Shirey; Misses Zonweiss Rogers, Letha Coles, Margaret Hamblin, and Grace Evans, as bridesmaids; Miss Mildred Apperson, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor; Josephine Williamson and Barbara Dielschneider as flower girls; Messrs Pierre Mead, Thomas Collard, Frank Holmes, and Norwood Apperson, as ushers; Mr. Shipley with his brother Harold as best man, and Miss Aileen with her father, W. F. Dielschneider.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of georgette with pearl trimmings, and her veil was held in place at the back of her wreath of orange blossoms.

The ring ceremony, which is always impressive, was used and in a few moments these two young people were united "for better, for worse, until death do you part."

The reception following was held at the Dielschneider home, which was also beautifully decorated, and the wedding party received the congratulations under a large wedding bell, which hung from one corner of the parlor.

The bride and groom have both lived all of their lives in Yamhill county and are well and favorably known, and the best wishes of the whole community follow them to their Portland home.

Irate Customer (at the restaurant):
"Look here. I found this needle in my soup."

Affable Hasher: "Beg pardon, sir. Mere typographical error. Should have been a noodle, not a needle."

"Many a man," says Uncle Eben, "turns over a new leaf an' den puts de same ol' writin' on it."

Have You Noticed

That it rains most every day, or snows?
 That it is hard weather for track and baseball?
 That we are to have a baseball game with P. U. on Friday?
 That the Seniors had a blowout last Monday afternoon?
 That President Riley is still on the sick list?
 That we wish for him a speedy recovery and that he will soon be back with us?
 That there are only seven more weeks of school left?
 That the carnival was a success in more ways than one?
 That the Commencement Review this year is to be the best ever?
 That you had better plan to get one as a souvenir and send one to a friend?
 That the Pinafore people are planning to go to Salem and stage Pinafore?
 That it is time for the spring elections and for the usual personal stump speeches?
 That we want the people elected who are best qualified for the office and not the ones whose friends can tell the biggest 'sob' story?
 That there are several political parties in this place and their methods are peculiar?
 That the sprouts of the new buildings are growing for the pictures appeared in the papers?
 That the class in campuistry is not as large as usual owing to the prolonged spell of rain?
 That it is not so bad as one would think to get out and chase yourself around the track and plow thru respective mud puddles in the track garb?

That the roses on the campus will begin to bloom in another month or so?
 That a real man is one who does not have to get a new hat when he gets a little honor handed to him?
 That if you meet something hard take your medicine for that will be the making of you?
 That this is a great time to live in and we should make the most of our opportunities?

SMILES

Jake: "What's the most you ever got out of your car?"
 Dewey: "I think seven times in one mile is my record."
 He: "What would you do if I should kiss you on the forehead?"
 She: "I'd call you down."
 Mark: "How did you get that shiner, Heine."
 Heine: "Oh, from batting my eyes."
 She: "I thought I told you to come after supper and it's only six o'clock."
 He: "That's what I came after."
 Stude (After thirty minute wait): "Waiter why don't you bring in that ham and eggs of mine?"
 Mozo: "I'm sorry, sir, but the hen is indisposed."

a winner too. This unique feature eliminates waste effort and time; it eliminates all the wrinkling, the gaping and the sagging that you have where the control is distributed; where a whole row of buttons is doing the work that one button can do better. It eliminates, too, the trouble that somebody has to take in keeping in repair nine or more buttons and button holes.
