FACULTY OF MUSIC ATTEND O.M.T.A.

STATE CONVENTION COMING TO McMINNVILLE NEXT FALL IS PRESENT PLAN

City Soon to Have Local Branch of Association

Three members of the Faculty of Music of McMinnville College attended the Oregon Music Teachers' association held in Salem, November 26 and 27. This is the first time the state association has met in convention outside of the city of Portland. Many of the music instructors and promoters felt that this was a progressive step in the history of the organization as it is the smaller towns that need the help of the association.

"High School Music and Credits" was the chief subject of discussion at the opening session. Hon. J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivered the opening address. Some of the foremost music instructors and personages of the state gave short talks.

The purpose of the association is to further the interests of good music throughout the state and this was the keynote of the convention.

At the Saturday noon luncheon the Faculty of McMinnville College furnished the music. Miss Corbett played "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 13" by Liszt, and Mrs. Warren sang "The Open Road" by Ross.

During the Saturday morning session Mrs. Potter, Dean of the Conservatory of Music, invited the association to meet in McMinnville next year. The invitation was accepted and the next convention will be held in McMinnville the Friday and Saturday following next Thanksgiving day.

Plans for organizing a branch of the association in McMinnville are

HIGH SCHOOL TO PRESENT "GREEN STOCKINGS" DEC. 17

The Lincoln High school of McMinnville will present the play "Green Stockings" at the Opera House December 17. The play is a reflection of English life and the central theme of the story is based on the old country custom that the older sister must wear green stockings at the wedding of her younger sister if that sister secures a husband first.

The following high school students will compose the cast: Madge Feely, Mildred Peery, Phyllis Myers, Mamie Flynn, Thelma Miller, Olin Shumaker, Kenneth Hollingsworth, Floyd Miller, Barney McPhillips, Dale Over, Clifford Smith, and Veryl Miller.

The play is full of amusing incidents and situations which finally resolve themselves into a delightful and unexpected (?) ending.

JUNIORS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP IN INTER-CLASS DEBATE

Monday evening, November 29, the Junior team composed of the Misses Christensen and O'Keefe won a unanimous decision over the Senior team composed of Messrs Davis and Jackson. The subject of whether or not the next United States congress should grant the Philippine Islands their independence was ably discussed by both teams. The Senior men were unable to refute the logical and constructive arguments presented by the Junior women. The debate was snappy and lively throughout.

The Debating club intended giving a forensic pennant to the winning team, but later decided to present a trophy cup.

CHORUS AND DRAMATISTS TO APPEAR IN PORTLAND

Mixed Chorus and Members of Dramatic Club Will Entertain in White Temple

At the beginning of the year the outlook for college Glee Clubs did not seem overly bright owing to the lack of material. However, since the new material has been given a try-out, it appears that it will be possible to have a Glee club.

A mixed chorus of twelve voices has been organized and is hard at work preparing a program to be given in the near future. "Mother" Potter is directing the work and declares the group is making splendid progress.

The chorus accompanied by several members of the Dramatic club, and a part of the college orchestra will go to Portland for their first appearance on the evening of December 10th. As former clubs and college dramatist have done, they will put McMinnville on the map and let some of the Portland people know that McMinnville does have a strong and efficient teaching corps in the Conservatory of Music.

The program for the evening will be divided into three parts. The first part of the program will be of a classical nature. The chorus will give several numbers assisted by Mrs. Mollie Patty Warren as soloist. Prof. Carl Grissen and Miss Vernita Corbett will appear as violin and piano soloists. The Misses Mary and Myrtle Ballard will also have a part in the program.

The second part consists of a playlet entitled, "Every Student in Old Mac." The concluding number of the

Piano and Voice Recital

Monday evening, December 13, students of the Conservatory of Music, will give a piano and voice recital in the Music hall. This is the first recital of the year, and a large crowd is expected. The public is cordially invited.

CLASSES ALMOST ABANDONED WHILE FRATS PLEDGE MEMBERS

Friday morning immediately after nine o'clock considerable excitement and consternation prevailed in the college halls owing to the elapse of the forty-eight hour "Silent and Non-Rush" period. Representatives from the various fraternities were busy attaching pledge pins while other members were extending the glad hand. It was an hour of welcome relief when the joy of general mingling was permitted.

So great was the excitement that many of the students forgot they were registered for nine o'clock classes, and some found it exceedingly difficult to concentrate in the classrooms later in the day.

HAMILTON CLUB ORGANIZED IN CITY OF McMINNVILLE

Former Residents of Hamilton, N. Y., and Alumni of Colgate Form Club

An organization known as the "Hamilton Club" was organized at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Haynes on the evening of November 19.

The club derives its name from the city name of Hamilton, New York, the home of Colgate University. The following were present and are charter members of the club: Dr. and Mrs. Northup, Prof. and Mrs. Gardiner, Rev. and Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. C. C. Potter, and Dr. and Mrs. Haynes.

Dr. Northup, Dr. Haynes, and Rev. Campbell were classmates and graduated with the class of '79. Prof. Gardiner graduated with the class of '76. Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Haynes were seat-mates in the Old Hamilton Seminary.

Since the organization of the club Mrs. George Learn of McMinnville, Prof. L. S. Shumaker, and Mrs. Hannah P. Schenck of Sheridan, have become members. Hamilton, N. Y., was formerly the home of Mrs. Learn, and Prof. Shumaker graduated from Colgate University in the class '02.

Dr. Northup was elected the first president of the club and Mrs. Haynes the first secretary. After the regular business of organizing had been completed, the club enjoyed a social hour. The next meeting will be held on St. Valentine's day.

program will be an operatic tragedy in which the villain Mr. T. Gobbler relates the death of Mr. G. Hopper. The last two numbers will be presented by members of the Dramatic club.

Notice to All Girls

All the girls who signed up for athletics will meet in the Music hall tonight at four o'clock. Immediately following the announcement of future plans the girls will go to the gymnasium for their first athletic work.

PREPS TAKE SERIES AND CHAMPIONSHIP

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT FROSH FOR SECOND PLACE—UPPER CLASSMEN LAND IN CELLAR

Present Series Reported to be Best Ever Played

The final game of the inter-class series was played last Friday evening, bringing to a close one of the most successful and satisfactory series ever scheduled. Four games were played the past week, all of which were cleaner and showed the benefits derived from last week's playing.

Junior-Senior--Frosh

Last Monday evening the Junior-Senior team tangled with the Frosh. The upper-classmen were weakened by the absence of Ben Larson while the Frosh were strengthened very much by the addition of Kratt, who just registered Monday. The game was fast from beginning to end and was anybody's battle until the final whistle blew.

The first half ended with a score of 6-4 favoring the upper classmen, but the game ended with the Frosh on the long end of a 12-8 score.

Sophs vs Preps

Tuesday evening the Sophs met the fleet Preparatory team in what proved to be the fastest and best game of the series. More real team-work was displayed than in any previous game. Exceptionally close guarding on the part of all the guards kept the score down and did not permit the forwards much liberty. Both teams fought to the last ditch and the first half ended with the score favoring the Preps 7-4. The second half was a real battle and resulted in a final score of 8-6 to the credit of the Preps.

Preps vs Junior-Senior

The deciding game of the series was played on Thursday evening between the Preps and the upper classmen. This was considered the cleanest game of the series. Although out-classed, the upper classmen put up a game fight to the end. First half ended 7-5 in the Preps favor. During the second half old man luck jumped around the Prep basket and assisted

College-Year Schedule

Recently a committee of the faculty drew up tentative plans for a college-year schedule to include all large social functions, oratory, debate, dramatics, glee clubs, and athletics. The committee is still working to complete and perfect the schedule with a view to systematizing the college calendar so that in the future a great deal of unnecessary friction may be eliminated, and several traditional dates and days may be established. This is regarded by many as the most progressive step attempted for some time, but there are those who seem to fail to see the advantages of such organization. The various presidents of organizations and the managers of student activities have been asked to cooperate that this schedule might be realized. This is a real step toward progress and every student should get behind the thing and do all in his power to put it across.

Boost for a Booster

Every week you get your Review and read the record there of things that have happened on the campus during the week. The paper is yours for it belongs to the student body. But who pays for it? About 60 per cent of the paper is taken up with news items and editorials. 40 per cent is advertising which pays for the paper. Do you read this 40 per cent? Can you name the business men who furnish you the paper each week?

The man who advertises in The Review must pay far higher rates than he does when advertising in other mediums. The circulation of the paper is small and the class of people it reaches are not heavy spenders. The advertiser in The Review has the right to expect that the student will pay a little more careful attention to his advertising than he would to advertising in town newspapers or in other ways.

Do you patronize and lead others to patronize those who furnish you with a Review.

The McMinnville business man who supports the college paper is boosting for the college. Do you boost for him? He is the one who helps every time the students need help from the town. Do your best to repay him by boosting him along whenever you can.

Did you ever think to tell an advertiser that you saw his ad in The Review? That you appreciated it? It will make the advertiser feel better because he will know what he is doing for you will be appreciated. It will make you feel better because you acknowledge thanks where thanks are due.

Try Listening Sometime

The wandering attention of the students in chapel was suddenly arrested some time ago by the lenient reprimand "Eyes Front." There is a timely thought behind these words which is well worth consideration.

It is naturally difficult for children of grade-school age to pay good attention; it is excusably difficult for youths of high school age to give undivided attention; but, it is absolutely inexcusable for young men and women of college standing to display a conspicuous lack in this respect. Whispering and cartoon sketching are childish characteristics which should long since have been outgrown.

You may be a good student, you may make brilliant recitations, you may be president of some organization, but—if you have not cultivated the art of listening, your education is sadly deficient. Just how serious this deficiency is, is shown in its effects on three parties, the speaker or public performer, your neighbor, and yourself.

If you feel that you already know what he has to say and that it is not worth your valuable while to listen intently to what is going on, at least consider how your restiveness affects the speaker and your neighbors. The former cannot do his best when members of his audiences are trying hard to exhibit the fact that they are bored and disinterested. Moreover, your neighbors who may be desirous of hearing what is being said, cannot well do so when their attention is constantly distracted by your restless motions and whisperings. Especially when a speaker is nearing the climatic point of his message will he find it very encouraging and inspiring to observe the above mentioned cooperative efforts on the part of his audience. It is surprising how such intelligent mortals as McMinnville college students can thus succeed in being downright rude.

To be sure we must admit that the time wasted in scrutinizing the bulletin board, in censoring the hall traffic, and in bolstering up the radiators must be made up, but is the chapel period the right time?

Your fair co-ed across the aisle doubtless merits your admiring gaze your lessons doubtless need studying, and your neighbor doubtless appreciates somewhat your good-humored remarks—but, for the sake of the long-suffering speaker and your own and your friends best good—forget these out-of-place facts and give your undivided attention to what is being said and done. Give the speaker a fair chance to do himself justice, thus not only according this rightful courtesy, but at the same time cultivating in yourself one of the best possible habits.

The art of listening is one of the subtlest and wisest arts, but it is one that can be possessed by anyone who wants it. D. C.

Now's the Time

If you have some work that's waiting
 Now's the time,
 Do not stand there hesitating,
 Now's the time,

If you wait and be so slow,
 While the golden moments go,
 You'll not have results to show—
 Now's the time,

If you have a task before you,
 Now's the time,
 O, I earnestly implore you,
 Now's the time,

If you only really knew
 Just how much it meant to you;
 Life is short and years are few—
 Now's the time.

If you wish to help another,
 Now's the time.
 Do not wait a year my brother,
 Now's the time.

Just a single thing I guess,
 But I'll tell you plainly yes,
 It's the secret of success—
 Now's the time.

A joyful meeting was held at the home of Dorothy Campbell Friday evening. The heartiest of welcome was given each girl, who promises a wonderful year to the Lambda Lambda Sigma sorority.

At eight o'clock Friday night Phi Epsilon met at the spacious home of Jake Manley. With the old time melodies and the latest jazz rendered by the Victrola and also an instructive program, an enjoyable evening was passed. The program was topped off by a great abundance of the world famous Manley doughnuts which disappeared like dew before the morning sun. The fraternity gladly announce Russell Elliot, Hilmer Bentson, and Elmer Dierks as pledges and feel sure that the new fellowship will prove of mutual benefit.

Iota Omega Mu met at the home of Bernard Hansard on Friday evening. The fraternity announces as pledge members, Clifford Vester, Clifford Hornbeck and William Maxwell.

The members of the Kappa Alpha Phi sorority were entertained on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Ramsey. A dinner was given in honor of the new pledges. The sorority announces as pledge member, Mary Louise Andrews. Eula Bones, Phonna Brixey, Grace Edmunds, Gretta Goude, Edna Polson, Emmaline Schlauch.

Nesika met this week at the home of Miss Ruth Riley. A large part of the evening was devoted to the reorganization of the society and to the formation of profitable plans for the betterment of the society. Among these was a new scheme for the arrangement of programs. Every member of Nesika is now hard at work and meetings of real value and interest are assured.

Delta Psi Delta was entertained at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Gardiner on Friday evening, December 3, in honor of the new pledges. Mrs. Gardiner was assisted in the entertaining by Mrs. C. F. Richards. An hour of social fellowship was enjoyed by the members during the early part of the evening, after which a light luncheon was served by the hostesses. Immediately after the luncheon a short program was given.

The fraternity announces as pledge members: William Scott, Fred Whittaker, and William Osgood.

Zeta Chi enjoyed their pledge supper Saturday evening at the Riley home. The fraternity announces as pledge members: Louise Skinner, Hilda Schutt, Agnes Moffat and Thelma Greene.

Last Wednesday the Y. M. men enjoyed a very interesting meeting led by Ed Socolofsky of Willamette. Mr. Socolofsky outlined his work and related his experiences with the boys who live in the slum districts of New York City. He told of the difficulties and the hardships with which they have to contend and the degrading influences under which these boys struggle for an existence. Several examples were cited showing the possibilities of these little chaps if they are but given an opportunity. All who heard him realized more vividly the need of workers in these districts in the large cities of our country.

Instructors at University of Washington May Omit All Final Examinations

An article appearing in a recent issue of the University of Washington Daily announced that at the close of the present term the instructors might omit all final examinations if they so chose. No special schedule has been arranged for the closing days of the term, and the choice of giving or not giving exams is left to the discretion of the individual teachers. However, an exception is made in the colleges of engineering and business administration, where finals are compulsory. The last three days of instruction, December 21, 22, and 23, may be used for examinations, but in most of the colleges the instructors will not be required to give finals unless they wish to and they may give them on one or two or all of the days specified.

During the past several years the regular class routine was not followed during the last week of each quarter, examinations in each course being according to a schedule arranged by the recorder of the University.

Frosh-Sophs

After the championship had been decided the Sophs did not care to play off their remaining game, but the Frosh thought they had a chance of bettering their average so challenged the Sophs to complete the schedule. With out any whys or wherefores the game was scheduled for Friday evening. Both teams lined up with a do or die expression on their physogs and with a determination to humiliate the opponents. The first half was fast and furious but the Sophs seemed too much for the Frosh and the half ended 11-0 in their favor. At the opening of the second half the Frosh came out determined to make a clean-up, but after a hard-fought half the game ended with Sophs on the long end of a 14-6 victory.

Washington Dedicates New Stadium

University of Washington dedicated their splendid new stadium November 27 when the U. of W. football team met the Dartmouth eleven. Although the Dartmouth warriors had the long end of the score, Washington suffered no humiliating defeat for it is reported that the team fought as never before. The seat sale will probably reach the $25,000 mark which shows that the students, the alumni, the city, and even the Northwest are loyally backing the University.

Minister's Sons Successful

Thirty percent of the 400 leading captains of industry in the United States are sons of ministers who have drawn less than $1200 per year in salary, according to statistics compiled by the federation of churches.
