Robert Parker Miles Proves Exceptional Dramatic Lecturer

"TALLOW DIPS" INCLUDES VISITS WITH FAMOUS CHARACTERS AT HOME AND ABROAD

Speaker Easily Sways Audience From Tears to Laughter

Dr. Miles, who appeared on the Lyceum platform on Friday evening, January 14, delighted his audience with a most impressive lecture entitled "Tallow Dips." He has interviewed some of the great, outstanding characters in Europe, and he wove his experiences together with word pictures of the characters he had met, and rounded out an inspiring, dramatic lecture.

As an introduction to his subject, he related a visit to a friend's house, where he had the pleasure of viewing some unique, attic relics. He de-

Riley and Vester Stage Yell Rally

Members of Basket Ball Team Are Wrapped in Cardinal and Purple Midst Loud Cheers

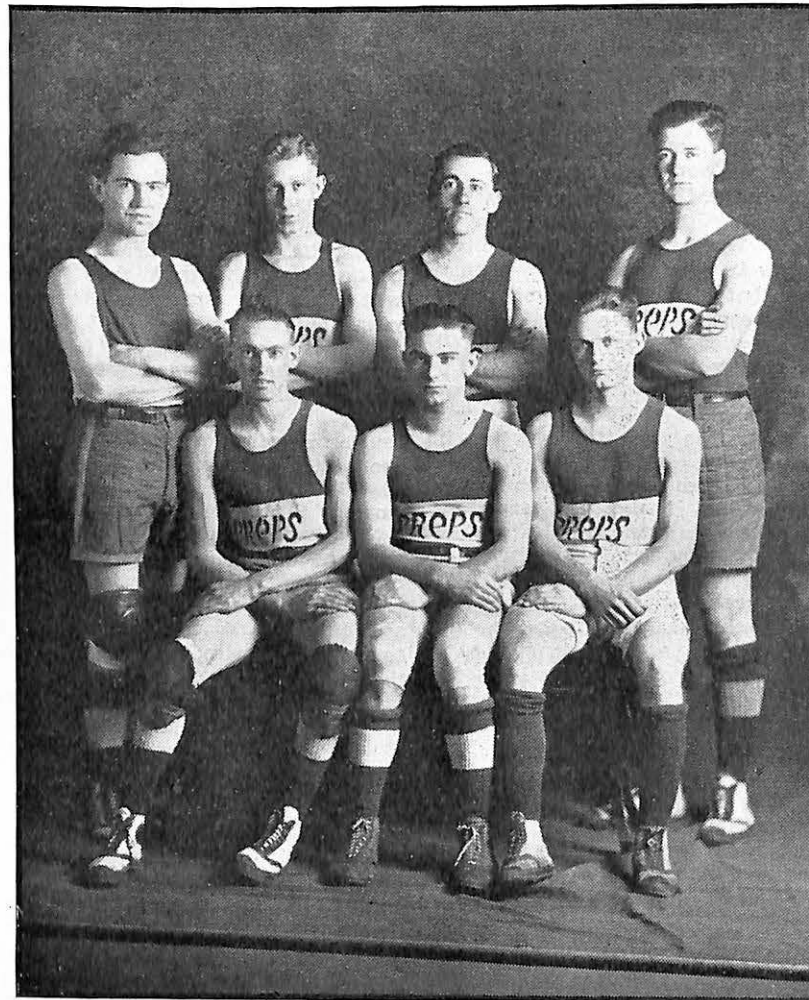

In the "Pep Rally" held after chapel Friday there was more real college spirit shown than has been evident on the campus so far this year. Yell leader Riley took charge and opened the session with a barrage of old time yells that made the halls and walls reverberate unlike anything experienced since the day of "thunderous" Vester. Manager Maxwell was called to the platform accompanied by Cliff Vester who carried eight large cardinal and purple blankets. In a few words Maxwell related the prospects for the season while Vester rustled the members of the basket ball team and had them seated in a semicircle on the platform.

After a few introductory remarks concerning the procuring of the blankets, for which Vester himself is chiefly responsible, he introduced each member of the team who in turn enthusiastically responded expressing a hopeful attitude for a successful season, after which he was wrapped in a blanket. The speeches were well interspersed with snappy yells and the old time spirit reigned supreme.

Weston Henry

"Wes" is an addition from last year's second team and plays a consistent game at either center or guard. He has lots of pep and is always "up and going."

INTER-CLASS CHAMPIONS---1920-1921

The Preparatory team were undefeated in the Inter-Class Series. Superior team-work coupled with clever basket shooting won for them their justly deserved title.

McMINNVILLE BASKET TOSSERS

Captain "Bob" Meddaugh

Last year "Bob" was considered by many fans and authorities to be the cleverest and fastest guard in the league. He is a wonderfully consistent and accurate floor man, absolutely tireless and a hard fighter. He is a mountain of strength on the team, and a pilot that every man admires.

"Ben" Larson

"Ben" is back on the team this year playing forward again. A good consistent game can always be expected from Ben, for he is fast on the floor and clever with his shooting. He played on the team and won his letter before his enlistment in the service.

Wrex Hickok

"Hickie," although being the lightest man on the team, is fast and full of fight. He is a clever shot and can be depended upon to get his share of the baskets at forward. This is his first year as a first string man.

Edwin Kratt

"Eddie" is a Frosh, recently from Lincoln High of Portland. He is playing center and although not very tall makes up for his lack of height by his excellent floor work. He is a great support to the team in both offensive and defensive playing.

Llewellyn Larson

"Larson" is a dark horse discovered in the inter-class games this year. He is coming fine at guard and with more experience will develop into a tower of strength on the defensive.

Waldo Hoberg

"Wamp" is another man from last year's second team. He is full of fight and works hard and conscientiously all the time and as the season progresses is sure to make a strong man at guard.

BOTH TEAMS PUT UP HARD FIGHT—LOCAL BOYS HANDICAPPED ON SMALL FLOOR

Irvin Stars for Albany—Brings Victory to Home Team

Last Friday night the McMinnville hoop tossers were defeated by the fast Albany quintet in the first league game of the season. The game was played on the Albany floor, which proved a decided handicap being much smaller than the local court. The teams were evenly matched as far as team work and aggressiveness is concerned, and the score 10-9 at the end of the first half indicates a hard fought game.

The second half opened with a rush and a determination on the part of every man to fight for victory. Albany had substituted Irvin for Gid-

Coach Gildea Lauds Work of Hoopsters

PLEASED WITH PRESENT SHOWING—CONFIDENT OF WINNING AGGREGATION IN NEAR FUTURE

The first conference game is over and it was a real battle for the boys. Although McMinnville registered on the small end of the score, neither the coach nor the members of the team are in the least discouraged. The spirit of the team is excellent, and the coach is confident of better results in the following games as is expressed in the following:

"We lost the first game of the season, but have every reason in the world to be proud of the showing the team made. With only one of last year's team back it has been necessary to build an entirely new team from men who had very little or no previous experience, a task that every coach dreads more than anything else. The men have been working hard, however, and with a couple of more games together they are going to be mighty hard to beat. Albany has what I consider perhaps the best team in the league this year, and our showing in the first half of the game last Friday night, when we held them to a 10-9 score was really remarkable

Harold Proppe

"Proppe" is another new, man in the college this year and plays forward. His experience on independent teams stands him in good stead and makes him a valuable asset to the team.

SHOW SOME REAL PEP

Pep? Lots of it. Didn't you see it at the rally Friday morning? Everybody had it. They ought to have. The basketball season is here. It's pep time. Bring on some of it!

If success is ninety per cent perspiration as some one brightly remarked, then our team is out to win. Manager Maxwell has had to install a five-inch rotary pump at the pavilion to keep the floor dry while the boys practice. Oh, we have a winning team, all right. They are working and they will win, if—we work too!

Make your pep last that's all you need to do. John Kenneth will direct it for you. He can do it. Back him to the limit. Almost two weeks to the first game at home, isn't it? Then now is just the time to begin to practice yells and songs. Some new ones? Sure, bring 'em on and give the old ones a shot of jazz. Let's go!

Now it's time for some one to say "but seriously." That isn't my style. I'm serious all the way through. The boys deserve to have a lot of real backing. It must be loud and last for one whole basketball season.

There are three places for basketball pep!

First (last, and all the time). In every rally we have. Take the lid off your sound can and let your jaw wiggle free. It won't hurt you and it might waken the fathers who sleep on the chapel walls.

Second, in town. Boost for every game to every body you see every time you see them and everybody you've ever seen before every game will be there. Our manager has some smile and he's not stingy with it either, but if Dewey could see a crowd of everybody that—you know about 'em—coming toward the auditorium before every game he'll have a million dollar smile that won't wear off till he pulls on his cap and bathrobe and marches up after his pigskin.

Third, at the games. Albany (right on our floor is where they don't win another game), P. U., and P. C. are coming. Let's teach 'em to put cotton in their ears before they come to Mac again. So we'll be there and we'll know our yells, and the crowd will be there, and J. Kenneth will be there to lead, and we'll back the boys to Victory.

THE MAN WHO ALWAYS MAKES THE TEAM

In early season training this remark is often heard on the campus, "Who will make the team?" It can best be answered when the coach has been selected and begins the work. The man who coaches the team is the man who makes the team and should receive the credit for whatever success the team may have. It is true that without material the coach would be helpless, but it is also true, that without a coach to advise, train, direct, and control, excellent team material would be doomed to failure.

Howard C. Gildea, basket ball coach, is spending his second season in that capacity with McMinnville College. Everybody, who knows basketball, realizes that the brilliant success of last year's team was due to the faithful and experienced coaching of Mr. Gildea. Every man on the squad liked him and admired him, both as a man and as a coach, and was always willing to go the limit to carry out his instructions.

Coach Gildea is a man who has had considerable basketball experience and knows the game from a to z. He knows a basketball player when he sees one and is able to make a player out of green material if the man has the slightest adaptability to the game. He wins the admiration and confidence of all who play under his coaching because of his impartiality, courtesy to his men, and his high regard for genuine sportsmanship. He has no favorites, but plays the man who best fills the bill to bring victory to McMinnville College.

This year Mr. Gildea has a difficult task on his hands. Bob Meddaugh is the only member of last year's team back on the squad, over fifty per cent of the remaining material is inexperienced. Nevertheless, he is giving his time and efforts to building a new team out of untried material. The men are working hard, doing their best for the man they admire so much in order to make victories possible.

Every student, faculty member, and alumnus of the college should give Mr. Gildea their faithful support and let him know that they are back of him and have faith in The Man Who Always Makes The Team.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Y. W. meeting of January 5 was led by Lorraine Hinson who chose the topic "The New Year." Many helpful suggestions were offered by the leader and the exchange of desires and resolutions at the close of the meeting was indeed beneficial.

Miss Erickson led the meeting of January 15 on the subject "Vocations for Women." Many possible vocations were suggested and their diversity was surprising. The idea was also brought out that if it were not possible for a girl to do what she most wished, she should cultivate an avocation.

Girls! Don't forget during exams and all the work that comes at the end of the semester that you will be losing something that you really need if you fail to attend Y. W.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL COACH

Miss Grace Snook, the girls' physical director and basket ball coach, surely deserves a word of praise in this number of The Review.

Miss Snook has practiced the girls three afternoons each week. Her aim, and it is also the ideal of the girls, is to make a physical culture course part of the regular college curriculum.

The loyalty of the college girls to the work has been very commendable. Sore, stiff, and often tired, they have continued in the work thus far and will stand pat until the end of the year.

It is easy to recall how "folks" did prophesy that this year would be like the preceding years; that the girls would drop out after the first enthusiasm had worn off. Not so, they are putting it over and with the aid of Miss Snook are doing excellent work.

Miss Snook is a University of Oregon student is in her junior year at college. She expects to finish her course this summer. With such an able director and such a splendid start toward the desired goal it is hoped that the girls of McMinnville College will continue the good work that she has thus far accomplished.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB CHOSEN

A Women's Glee club was organized on January 3. Plans are being made to work up a musical entertainment to be presented in the spring. Much enthusiasm is manifested by the members of the club and good work expected to be accomplished when the organization is completely perfected. Members of the club are: Mildred Jones, Helen Ankcorn, Ida Miller, Sarah Christensen, high soprano; Ruth Riley, Evelyn Leger, Edna Polson, Alma Carstens, second soprano; Jessie Jeffery, Esther Telcher, Leona Walker, Dorothy Campbell, first alto; Dorothy Smith, Elizabeth Pangborn, Minnie Larson, Mary Louise Andrews, second alto.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION RECEIVES SET OF BOOKS

The Ministerial Association has been the recipient of a collection of books from the library of the late W. H. Pruett. The collection comprises some two hundred volumes and includes a ten volume set of Spurgeon's works by Moody, A. J. Gordon, and others. The books are in good condition and will be put in a place accessible to those interested.

A. J. JONES GIVES CHICKEN DINNER TO COMMONS

Last Sunday the members of the College Commons had a chicken spread with all the fixings and trimmings at the expense of "The Students' Friend," A. J. Jones. Every member expressed his appreciation and desires to send a word of thanks for this splendid feed.

GIRLS WIN PRACTICE GAME ON LOCAL FLOOR

Last Thursday night the college girls defeated the McMinnville High school girls in a fast and cleverly played basket ball game in the college gym. This is the first outside game played by the college girls, but under the consistent training of Coach Snook they had developed a team that made their first game a decided victory.

Considerable comment was heard after the game on the small attendance, many of the college girls failing to show up and support the team. However, the girls did their best and won by the score of 12-6.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. meeting of January 12 was led by Harvey Locke on the subject, "The Marks of a Man." He illustrated how the men of good character are the successes and leaders in the world. In the general discussion that followed many of the men present enumerated the particular characteristics that they especially admire in men.

Mark Hanna
The
TRUSTWORTHY JEWELER

Society

Phi Epsilon met at the apartments of Weston Henry and Harvey Locke and after dispensing with a few items of business, all enjoyed an interesting program. The official college game made its appearance and with the important social features ended another meeting of fraternal fellowship.

Delta Psi Delta was entertained at the home of Hugh Whirry Saturday evening. A musical program was the feature of the evening which was thoroughly enjoyed by every member.

Miss Alice Schmidt of Portland spent Saturday and Sunday at the McKee home. Miss Schmidt expects to register as a freshman in the College department next semester.

Mr. Carl Nissen was called suddenly to his home at Lake Stevens, Wash., due to the illness of his mother. We are hoping Mr. Nissen will be able to return soon.

On Saturday evening Iota Omega Mu met at 8 o'clock at the home of Bernard Hansard. A very interesting program was enjoyed by all and then the host invited the fraternity to the dining room where a feast fit for such hungry mortals was spread. The occasion for the feed being Bernard's birthday.

Miss Lorraine Hinson spent the week-end in Portland visiting with her father, who has recently undergone an operation.

Zeta Chi met at the home of Prof. Mann Saturday evening to enjoy the weekly business meeting and social hour. The fraternity is glad to announce Mrs. Myron W. Haynes as a new honorary member. Mrs. Haynes is at present visiting in British Columbia but will return to McMinnville soon.

Miss Vina Finley, a member of the Sophomore class, was operated on for appendicitis during the Christmas holidays. Miss Finley is in a hospital in Portland and we are glad to know she is improving and hope she will return to school before long.

Prof. Gardiner, head of the English department, has been suffering from a severe cold the past week and has been unable to meet his classes.

We are very sorry to lose "Precious Juul" from our midst but he has returned to his home in Seattle.

Miss Zelda Peard and Mr. Oscar Gladdish are both on the road to recovery after suffering the loss of their tonsils last week.

THE SECOND SQUAD—WHO THEY ARE AND WHAT THEY DO

It would not be fair to mention the members of the college team without saying something of the second squad. One cannot exist without the other, for the production of a good varsity team depends upon the stiff opposition of a strong second squad.

The turnout for basketball is larger than usual this year and the spirit of the fellows is of the kind that makes them work unselfishly for the sake of the college. There is a bunch of good scrappers at the pavilion every night that make the first stringers get up and hustle. There are some strong players among them who may be in first team jerseys before the season is out.

Among those turning out deserving special mention are Bliss and Hill, both of whom are clever forwards, ably assisted by Scott, Arnold and Wilson. Davis and Hansard are generally on hand to make things interesting in the center position. Vester is a fast, clever, and hard fighting man at guard and makes his forward earn every basket that he gets. Elliott is showing up well at guard and gives promise of developing into a valuable man. Rich, Druse, and Paul are showing stuff and are fighting hard.

Too much credit cannot be given to these men for their work. It is a big encouragement to the team and to the coach to have such good support.

dings at forward and this proved to be their winning combination. Irvin is an exceptionally fast and clever forward and is almost a sure shot. Out of thirteen attempts to score he managed to cage six baskets and these were all long shots. He added two points to his score by throwing two pretty fouls. During the contest his teammates managed to add four baskets.

Close guarding contributed to McMinnville's defeat, though both teams covered exceptionally well. This was Mac's first game while Albany is a veteran quintet and has already had several practice games. Final score in favor of Albany 32-12.

Following were the lineups:

Position	Albany	McMinnville
F	Giddings (4)	Hickok (4)
F	Daniel (6)	B. Larson (4)
C	Wilcox	Kratt (4)
G	Kropp	L. Larson
G	Wilkinson (8)	Meddaugh

Substitutes: Albany—Irvin (14) for Giddings, Olin for Kropp.

in view of the fact that Albany has a team of veterans and that their playing floor and baskets are so radically different from ours. So far as team work was concerned we played as good a game as Albany did in the second half, but they had Irvin to put in and we did not, and he is some team in himself. I consider our own "Bob" Meddaugh the best guard in the league so I consider Irvin by far the best forward.

The most gratifying feature of our team's work was the fast, hard and clean game they played and the fact that they fought every minute of the game, even when the score was hopelessly against them. A team of that sort cannot be denied and I am mighty proud of everyone of the boys. We lost the first game, but there are several more to play, and I promise you that when they have had a little more experience together they will surprise even some of their best friends. We were not only handicapped by inexperience, but even more so by the lack of practice games before the league season opened. No team can ever do its best work until it has played at least two games against some outside team. We are also handicapped by the absence of the proper man for the center position. Kratt is an exceptionally clever player, and a valuable acquisition to any team, but lacks the height necessary for a man to properly fulfill this position. If Milt Coe returns for the second semester, as I understand he expects to do, we will finish the season with as good a team as we had last year when we tied P. U. for the league championship. At any rate we are going out to give battle to every team we play, and whether we win all of our future games or not we are going to be in there working all the time, and any team which defeats us will do so only because it is a better team."

scribed, in his able manner, such articles as broken chairs, spinning wheels, etc., and wound up with a word picture of an old tallow dip, which he said had given him the inspiration for his subject. In the words that followed he aimed to show how great men had achieved their greatness through earnest, persevering work. He spoke of his first visit with the great inventor of the day, Thomas Edison. He described him as a shabby appearing man usually wearing a slouch hat, and as sometimes having his vest buttoned in the wrong buttonhole. Dr. Miles said that when he spoke to Edison one day on the street and told him that his inventive power was an inspiration, that Edison replied, "Inspiration? Ah, no, perspiration!"

Dr. Miles, who has been responsible for a great many of the prison reforms in New York, related the case of a certain young John Howard, who had been sentenced to Sing Sing prison for ten years, for a small criminal offense. While in prison he had built an organ even more wonderful than one in a prominent Russian cathedral. John Howard, primarily through Dr. Miles, was released by Theodore Roosevelt, then governor of New York. John Howard grew to be an outstanding character in the world's history.

Dr. Miles held his audience spellbound as he described that most admired and respected man of his time, Gladstone. He told of the courtesy the great English gentleman had shown him during his visit in England. He related the eccentricities of the wonderful man, and then showed how these eccentricities seemed to fade as Gladstone poured forth his flow of oratory in the House of Commons. Dr. Miles spoke of his visit to Pope Leo XIII. of Rome, and also brought out the courtesy that had been shown to him by the venerable man.

In great contrast was a remarkable character sketch of the ex-emperor of Germany, Kaiser Wilhelm. He told of the abruptness of his manner and his disrespectful attitude toward him while he was there. "This," said Dr. Miles, "illustrates the difference between one who has no brains, and those who have intellect."

As a fitting close, Dr. Miles told us of his accidental interview with the mother of the renowned preacher, Newell Dwight Hilles. He showed how much a mother's influence furthered the success of a son or daughter. It was certainly an impressive lecture for college students especially, who still have the molding of their lives in their hands. It is to be agreed upon by all who were present Friday evening, that Mr. Robert Parker Miles is surely a remarkable and popular platform artist.
