SAM HIGGINBOTTOM DELIVERS SPLENDID ADDRESS IN CHAPEL

HEAD OF ALLEHABAD AGRICULTURAL INSTITUTE RELATES OBSTACLES ENCOUNTERED IN INDIA

Students Hear Mission Talk Tinged With Humor and Sincerity

Tuesday in Chapel, Samuel Higginbottom, who is at the head of the Allehabad Agricultural Institute of India, gave an address regarding his work there. He is a speaker with very few gestures but great spontaneity of expression, and the ease with which he approached and made his humorous climaxes pleased his audience.

Mr. Higginbottom, besides being director of agriculture for the Gualion government and active under a number of other Maharajas, is in control of an institute having a farm of 275 acres with dormitory accommodations for about a hundred students. Mr. Higginbottom stated that about seventy-five per cent of the people of India depend on farming for a living. The wages paid there are from three to six cents a day, never under three and never over six. The farms are generally very small and the living conditions are exceedingly unsanitary. The Indian people and often the government is much opposed to any attempt which has for its purpose the betterment of the agricultural system, believing that as old as India is if she has not been able to improve her agricultural methods by now she never will. However, thru untiring effort and endeavor Mr. Higginbottom has been able to win the confidence of some of the Maharajas who have been

ALBANY COLLEGE FACULTY BANQUETS STUDENT BODY

Albany college faculty members recently entertained the student body with a dinner party. The group of hosts and hostesses donned aprons and displayed their culinary skill for the event.

During the evening a program was given in which students and faculty participated. President A. M. Williams acted as toastmaster, Dr. Lee led in the college songs, Dr. C. W. Hays, Dr. William Westwood, and Harold Irvine spoke on various phases of college life.

There are 1176 higher institutions of learning in the United States. This list includes all the universities, colleges, professional schools, colleges of agriculture, mechanical, technological and mining science, normal schools, theological seminaries, and junior colleges.

DR. HINSON REPORTED RAPIDLY RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

Dr. W. B. Hinson, pastor of the East Side Baptist church of Portland and for several years Biblical lecturer in McMinnville college, is rapidly recovering following his operation for stomach ulcer. Physicians believe that his physical condition will be sufficiently strengthened to permit him to occupy his pulpit again next Sunday. No definite information has as yet been received as to when he will again speak from the chapel platform. The operation proved more serious than reports indicate, as it was necessary to remove a portion of the patient's stomach, establishing intestinal connection through an artificial made orifice.

MAC DEBATE TEAM READY FOR CONTESTS

Albany and College of Puget Sound May Debate Here Next Month

The men's debating teams composed of Charles Davis and Duncan Olmstead for the affirmative—Paul Jackson and Sylvester Cross for the negative are working hard on the Japanese question. Every week there is held a practice debate with twenty minute speeches from the different members. Material from all available sources is being assimilated and worked into shape. The teams are determined to bring honor to McMinnville when they meet Pacific and Willamette Universities in March.

The forensic manager, Paul Jackson, is endeavoring to schedule a debate with the College of Puget Sound when they come south to debate Willamette University at Salem next month. Albany College has written asking for a debate with Mac and it is believed that a satisfactory schedule can be arranged.

The girls' teams composed of Sarah Christenson and Ruth O'Keefe for the affirmative; Edith Clark and Eunice Hart, negative, are out to win the girls' triangular. They are also holding practice debates each week. Three judges, chosen from the faculty, will listen to all practice debates from now on, and will act as critics in conjunction with the debate coach, Prof. Jewell.

ILLINOIS RAISES $20,000

Exceeds All Colleges In Funds for European Students

According to information sent out by the American Relief Society for students in Europe, the University of Illinois has done the best in the campaign for funds to relieve the sufferings of the students across the waters. A well organized campaign was conducted to which most of the students contribute liberally, some of them giving large amounts.

STUDENTS HEAR PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN OSTEOPATHIC ASS'N.

Last Friday Dr. William E. Waldo, president of the American Osteopathic Association, occupied the chapel hour. Dr. Waldo is making a tour of the United States in the interests of osteopathy speaking to college, civilian, and professional audiences.

In a very simple and direct manner he related a few facts about the anatomy of the human body. His talk also touched upon a few of the various organs of the body and the way the individual can assist these organs to function properly. In the evening he spoke in the Commercial Club Rooms on the subject "The Science of Osteopathy in Relation to the World's Reconstruction."

COLLEGE DRAMATISTS APPEAR IN SHERIDAN

Dramatic and Glee Clubs Render High Class Program; Audience Alert

The college dramatic and glee clubs presented a varied program in Sheridan Friday evening, February 18, consisting of a play, violin duets, readings, vocal and piano solos and mixed choruses. Quite a number of students accompanied the clubs thereby showing an interest in and a willingness to support this branch of student activities. The clubs are scoring considerable success under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Potter, a similar program being presented in Portland December 10.

The company played before a small audience at Sheridan due to the inadequate advertising of the entertainment. The audience though small was enthusiastic and alert, the numbers given by the talent being heartily applauded. In spite of the handicaps the members of the troupe played exceptionally well, reflecting great credit upon Mrs. Patter as director and trainer.

After the program the clubs were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sackett.

CARSTENS ADDED TO STAFF

The Review management is glad to announce the addition of Halsey Carstens to the Reporting Staff of the paper. Mr. Carstens is a member of the class of '22. He has previously been connected with the staff, is an able and exact writer, and is wide awake to school and campus activities.

Students at Baylor University, Texas, cannot have a vote in the Student Government Association unless they pay a poll tax and have a receipt to show. The income thus derived is spent in booster activities carried on by the Student Association.

LINCOLN McCONNELL BRINGS BIG MESSAGE IN LYCEUM LECTURE

"THE GUY THAT DELIVERS THE GOODS" SUBJECT OF ENTERTAINING AND INSPIRATIONAL LECTURE

Makes Powerful Plea for 100 Per Cent American Manhood

It was not only a well pleased but an uplifted audience that left the theatre Saturday night after listening to Dr. Lincoln McConnell, the big impressive southerner from Georgia, expound some of his philosophy of life.

Full of wit and humor as well as thought, and with a commanding personality, the speaker with the audience completely under his control drove home the thoughts that he wanted to leave in a way that made them stick. From an uproar of laughter he would sway his audience to a serious thoughtful silence by his touches of eloquence.

Dr. McConnell used as the foundation of his lecture the story of Samson and the lion, when Samson was on the way to the girl of his choice and a lion attempted to stop his progress. He killed the lion and went on to carry out the purpose. Later when he returned he found bees had made a hive in the body, so Samson ate honey taken from the lion he had killed. He compared lions to our difficulties and said we all have lions to meet. If Samson had dodged the lion he would never have gotten the honey, and the lion might have been the one who secured the honey. He who evades the lion misses the honey.

There were several qualities that made for success in Samson. One was ambition. He had an aim, he had some place to go. The reason so many people never get there is that they never start there. Ambition is made

WAPATO TO REPRESENT WILLAMETTE IN ORATORY

Paul Wapato won first place in the oratorical tryout held at Salem recently to select Willamette's representative for the State I. O. A. C. contest to be held in Eugene March 18. This is Wapato's second year as college orator representing Willamette at Forest Grove last spring.

"The Monkey Wrench in Democracy" is the subject of his oration. He describes the neglect of educational institutions as the real peril in American history, citing the downfall of other great nations, Egypt, Greece, and Rome, laying the supreme cause in each case to a neglect of mental discipline. He concludes with a cry against the modern decay of the teaching profession due to inadequate training and inadequate pay of members.

Are You A Member of This Club?

There is a certain club in College that has a larger membership than any fraternity or sorority in the institution. This club is not at all exclusive. First year Preps are eligible for membership as well as dignified Seniors. Members are not limited to one sex but includes both. The Club has not secured permission from the faculty to exist. Another peculiar thing is that there is no initiation fee or monthly dues connected with the club. This club being so democratic and having such few requirements for membership is very popular. Do you want to join? There is only one requisite and that is to be slipshod. The name of the grand order is "Where-Is-It?" It is easy to recognize members of this lodge. Just do a little observing and you will notice some one hunting all over for his text-book, which he himself has misplaced. Where is it? is his password as he searches through every nook and corner for the misplaced book. Judging by the amount of time he gives to finding it you would conclude that he was eligible for president of the "Where-Is-It-Club."

Other members are identified by the fact that they can't find their Lyceum or Student Body tickets when they need them. "I wonder where my A. S. M. C. ticket is," is the chorus that the club sings as they frantically search through books, pockets, notebooks, etc., hunting for their ticket—so it goes.

There are many ways of identifying members. It is easy to see what this club stands for. "A place for everything and everything in its place," is the very antithesis of the object of the club. "Can't find a thing when it is wanted" seems to be the star accomplishment of any member.

No one, consciously, wants to belong to this order. It stands for the opposite of what education does—orderliness, system, etc. Let's adopt in our school work method, harmony, system and root out this club.

95 STUDENTS ATTAIN HIGH AVERAGE LAST SEMESTER

The registration for this semester has reached 245 and exactly equals the enrollment for last year. The number of students registered in the college department is continually increasing, registration for this semester reaching 161 of whom 6 are unclassified as against 148 with 15 unclassified for last year.

Scholarship for the past semester was exceedingly high. Following is a list of 60 women and 35 men who attained an average of 90 percent or above:

Roland Allen, Olga Anderson, Mary Louise Andrews, Helen Ankorn, Allan Arnold, Mary Ballard, Myrtle Ballard, Marian Banker, Mattie Bean, Neppie Bell, Phonna Brixey, Rachael Cabeen, Rhoda Carmichael, Frances Chappell, Sarah Christensen, Edith Clark, Helen Crigler, Sylvester Cross, John Crump, Eva Cummins, Charles Davis, Loda Davis, Elmer Dierks, Russell Elliott, Muriel Enman, Maude Finley, Lloyd Fraker, Eva Goude, Gretta Goude, Stuart Goude, Walter Gowen, Kallona Hardin, Eunice Hart, John Haug, Alfred Hillier, Bernice Hubble, Della Ingram, Mike Isaak, Nathaniel Isaak, Paul Jackson, Alice Jaquet, Doreen Johnson, Issie Jones, Marie Kilgore, Edwin Kratt, Benjamin Larson, Minnie Larson, Harvey Locke, Mabel Lovegren, Flora Maloney, Ruel Marsh, Dewey Maxwell, Agnes Moffat, Frances Moore, Lloyd McElvain, Gladys McKeown, Erston Nofstinger, Osa Northup, Ruth O'Keefe, Alice Oliver, Duncan Olmstead, William Osgood, Edith Overman, Hervey Park, Bertha Pentney, Gladys Peterson, Claude Proffitt, H. JOHN F. MASON VISITS MAC

John Frederick Mason, '13, was a visitor on the campus during the past week. While in college Mr. Mason was very active in oratory, dramatics and several other student activities, however, he devoted the major portion of his spare time to his development as a dramatic reader.

Since graduation he has been connected with the teaching corps of McMinnville, Oregon City, and Eugene High schools. At present he is engaged in giving dramatic programs, and has reached a very high degree of success in this work.

Mr. Mason is a member of Phi Epsilon, and while renewing acquaintances in McMinnville dined at the college commons where he favored the members with several of his humorous selections. Many who heard him pronounced him one of the most talented readers they had ever listened to. Mr. Mason expects to return to Mac for a short visit in the course of two or three weeks.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Y. M. meeting last Wednesday was led by Ruel Marsh. He chose for his subject "Who is My Neighbor?" He read the story of the Good Samaritan, and by several illustrations showed how each man could apply that same principle to his own life by helping those about him who are having trials and difficulties. It was generally agreed, that the student who is planning to be a missionary and does not show a missionary spirit while in school will not develop such a spirit after leaving college. Now is the time to practice the principles that you intend shall govern your after-school life.

FELLOWSHIPS OFFERED

Fifteen fellowships, each paying $350 per annum, are open to graduates of any college or university at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan., for the school year 1921-22. Practically all courses ordinarily offered there, are open to the winners of these fellowships, which are to be granted on a competitive basis. Applications must be made by March 1 to the dean of the graduate school

INTER ALIA

Are you seeking after the truth or are you trying to fit everything you learn into the ideas which you already have? Do you disregard the things which do not fit in with your ideas as untrue? If you are going to do this you might as well quit your education at once. You will never grow while you hold this attitude.

It's strange how people will laugh at the ignorance and dogmatism of the educated man of a few centuries ago and at the same time assume just as dogmatic an attitude about the things they know today. However there is no reason to worry about the narrowness of our attitude. The things we believe now will give our progeny much cause for mirth in the years to come and it's worth something to be able to make people laugh, either now or three hundred years from now.

Open your mind at both ends! You must be able to shove out the ideas which investigation proves to be untrue or else you will soon be so clogged up with a few ideas that you will have no room for what is new.

Let us press your suit for you McMinnville Cleaners and Dyers.

WHAT SORT OF A FELLOW ARE YOU?

Why censure, condemn, or e'en criticize
The faults you may see in another?
Just take out the beam found in your own eye,
Then the mote will leave that of your brother.
You talk of his weaknesses, follies and sins;
He has them—that is doubtless too true
But here is a question I'd like to propound:
What sort of a fellow are YOU?

Do you hug to yourself the delusion absurd,
That in you perfection is found?
Do you think yourself faultless? You know you are not;
Then why pull the other man down?
It will keep you quite busy safe-guarding your thoughts,
Without troubling what others may do
You'll agree that it will, knowing others will ask,
What sort of a fellow are YOU?

Oh, the sins and the follies we find in ourselves;
Then why should we censure our brothers?
Though they have their weaknesses, many of them,
In ourselves we shall find there are others.
Look not for the man who possesses no faults,
For we all have them, many or few;
When condemning another don't forget 'twill be asked
What sort of a fellow are YOU?

Members of Phi Epsilon who did not go to Sheridan Friday evening met at the apartments of Henry and Locke for their regular weekly meeting. After a few items of business some of the current topics of the day were discussed. The fraternity enjoyed a light repast before adjournment.

Miss Emmaline Schlauch was hostess to a number of girl friends at dinner Thursday evening.

Iota Omega Mu held its regular meeting in Roland Allen's palacial apartments on Friday evening. Following the business of the evening, Milt Coe read an interesting paper entitled "Gambols on the Green," and Bernard Hansard read a scholarly treatise on "The Immortality of the Scullers." After this the members partook of light refreshments in the form of cream cake and coffee.

Edwin Kratt, Clifford Vester, and Mildred Christenson spent the weekend in Portland.

Mrs. C. F. Richard's was hostess to Zeta Chi Friday evening at a George Washington party in honor of Mildred Erickson of Yakima, Washington.

Mr. Raymond Bueermann, '18, of Portland was a guest at the college commons Thursday morning at breakfast. Mr. Bueermann has recently returned from an extended trip in the east visiting in Chicago, Philadelphia, New Kensington, Washington, D. C., and New York City. He spent a week with his brother Winfred who graduated from McMinnville with the class of '17 and is now a senior in the medical school of Columbia University.

Misses Irene Miller and Leona Walker spent Saturday and Sunday visiting with Miss Walker's brother in Portland.

Miss Eileen Risley was the guest of honor at a Lambda Lambda Sigma slumber party Saturday night. After Lyceum the Lambda girls met at Oak Cottage and there endeavored to spend the night in heavy slumber. Those who succeeded were counted among the lucky few. Sunday morning found the girls up, with breakfast over, and at Conquest class on time. The sorority regrets the loss of Eileen but wish her success in the work she is about to undertake.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Berg of Wallace, Idaho, announce the birth of a son, John J., Jr., on February 11. Mrs. Berg was formerly Miss Marion Hanscom a student at the college, and a member of Zeta Chi.

Delta Psi Delta met at the Jackson home for a short business meeting Friday evening. Immediately after adjournment the fraternity members were the guests of Mr. Jackson at the Elberton Grill.

ADVOCATES TRAINING

That women in colleges and preparatory schools should pursue technical and scientific courses rather than the purely academic courses is the suggestion carried by a circular letter issued under the date of January 29 by the United States Civil Service commission. All examinations for the civil service are now open to women, but few qualify because of lack of technical training.

THEY HAVE TO READ

Entering Students Must Satisfactorily Review Books

Before entering the junior year at Columbia University, a student must satisfactorily read books of thirty given classic and medieval authors.

On the reading list are: Homer, Plato, Plutarch, Dante, Voltaire, Adam Smith, Goethe and Tolstoi. In all, sixty-one books are included. Students are compelled to read and report on them from time to time during their first two years.

FELLOWSHIPS ARE OFFERED

Twenty to Be Awarded to Students In March—Each Worth $1000

Twenty fellowships, ten for study in Sweden, five for study in Denmark and five for study in Norway, will be awarded to students of American birth by the American-Scandinavian Foundation of New York City in March. Each of these fellowships bears a stipend of at least $1000.

"O-U-G-H," or The Cross Farmer

A farmer's boy, starting to plough,
Once harnessed an ox with a cough;
But the farmer came out,
With a furious shout,
And told him he didn't know hough.

In a manner exceedingly rough,
He proceeded to bluster and blough,
He scolded and scowled,
He raved and he howled,
And declared he'd have none of such stough.

At length, with a growl and a cough,
He dragged the poor boy to the trough,
And, ducking him in Till wet to his chin,
Discharged him and ordered him ough.

And now my short story is through—
And I will not assert that it's trough;
But it's chiefly designed To impress on your mind
What wonders our spelling can dough.

And I hope you will grant that although
It may not be the smoothest in flough,
It has answered its end
If it only shall tend
To prove what I meant it to shough.

An Irishman was handling dynamite in a quarry. He let a stick drop, and the whole box went up, taking Mike with it.

Later on the quarry boss came around and said to another Irishman:
"Where's Mike?"

"He's gone," was the reply.
"When will he be back?" asked the boss.

"Well," was the reply, "If he comes back as quick as he went he'll get here yesterday."

Unequal Losses

Frederick gave his eyes and nose a

LINCOLN McCONNELL BRINGS MESSAGE IN LYCEUM LECTURE

up of desire, purpose, and preparation. He made it clear that desire alone is not ambition. He took a shot at the fool hall as he called it, and said it was a place where young bucks hang out who have desire but lack ambition. He made a strong plea for young people to make something of themselves in this world.

Dr. McConnell very impressively stated that the only one who is going to be honored tomorrow is the man who delivers the goods. There is nothing but a hole in the ground for "the world owes me a living" kind of a man. To amount to anything a man must have something to give to the world, must have an output, and that mental output must have information back of it. It is much easier to secure information now with all the books, records, and experiences of those who have preceded us, than it ever was before.

The speaker said whatever we might think of Lenine of Russia, he is at least a philosopher. Lenine says the only people worth while are those who produce the necessities of life.
Though we could not agree to Lenine's short list of necessities his philosophy is correct, and there is no place for the parasites, mistletoes, and special privileged folk in society.

Then he pictured to us the great war, into which we threw our best brains and energy in order to win. We gained tremendously in wealth and commerce because of the war—Europe was left broken and poor, and as a result America is left in the world with no friends. Germany hates United States because she caused her defeat—the allies envy United States because she got rich at their expense.

Dr. McConnell predicts a new war with Europe, an economic, industrial, and commercial war into which Europe is going to throw her best brains and energies in order to gain a victory. Europeans aware of their situation are stripped for action—Americans with plenty of money are taking it easy preparing for nothing. Even in this country the foreigners are the most ambitious and energetic. He cited the case of the great Y. M. night schools in Cleveland where most of the students are foreigners studying hard for advancement, while the American youths are out on the streets displaying their silk shirts.

But ambition does not make success.
Action must follow, and there are two things which prevent action, laziness and cowardice. These must be overcome. It is action released by courage that makes a man deliver the goods. Four exercises one must master to become efficient are: attention, concentration, classification, association and recollection.

Dr. McConnell concluded his wonderful lecture with the thought that love is the most impelling force in the world. It drove Samson on—it straightens people's backbones. It is a great thing, but be careful what you fall in love with. Love transforms.
Love nothing unworthy of your best,
and while you may hear the applause of men you may hear the "Well Done"
from God. Be and Do.

D. Deeever Sez:

It happened befor the last game. A fine looking young feller cumz around to the Bookstore and sez to Jack, "Let me see the list of the gurlz who has Stewdent Bodie Ticketz." "Haven't one," sez Jack, "but what-cha wanta see it four? "Aw," sez the guy, kinda beety round the earz, "I wanta make a date for the game with one a them." Better get on that list befor Friday nite, gurlz!
