MILDRED I. CROWNED QUEEN OF MAY

IMPORTANT MEN IN EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES SEE MAC

Rockefeller Foundation Executives
Find Conditions Satisfactory

Dr. Wallace Buttrick and Mr. Trevor Arnett, the former the president of the General Education Board and the latter his secretary, visited McMinnville College last Tuesday, at which day's Chapel service Doctor Buttrick was the speaker. The General Education Board which the two men represented has its headquarters in New York City and is organized for the purpose of the proper distribution of the funds of the Rockefeller Foundation, somewhat favoring quasi-religious institutions.

The visit was made to McMinnville for the purpose of investigating the situation here and of ascertaining the advisability of granting McMinnville College her request for two hundred thousand dollars providing she herself raise four hundred thousand in addition. President Riley told Mr. Arnett that he could be reasonably sure of securing the latter amount. The

by Annexing Eight Runs on Five Hits and Numerous Errors

The May Day baseball game against the Pacific college aggregation was opened with President Riley in the box, Prof. VanOsdel behind the plate, and Dean Northup at bat. President Riley showed perfect control as the first ball delivered was a perfect strike. The game started well but ended with a 12-5 score favoring P. C.

Fortune failed to smile on Mac as a few days before Roscoe Larson, the reliable mound man, smashed a finger. This necessitated an eleventh hour shakeup in the team and left it without a first string twirler.

Neither team scored in the first two innings. In the third P. C. gathered three hits which netted them three runs. Mac scored two runs in their half and added another in the fourth, tying the score.

The sixth inning was Mac's downfall. P. C. leaned on the horse hide for five safeties and Mac contributed several errors netting the Quakers

GREAT CROWD THROUGHS CAMPUS TO WITNESS CORONATION CEREMONY

Ideal Day Favors Crowning of Princess Mildred I, McMinnville's Beautiful and Gracious Queen of May

May Day morning dawned an ideal day for the crowning of Princess Mildred I. The campus was beautifully decorated and all was in readiness by 8:30 o'clock. The crowds began streaming across the bridge and coming to the campus from every angle, lined up around the court enclosure, to witness one of the most impressive crowning events in the history of the college.

The Walnut City Band opened the day's program at 9:00 o'clock and played for half an hour. This was much appreciated by the many visitors who had gathered to witness the coronation, as well as by the faculty and students of the college.

At 9:30 the Preparatory class and the four college classes marched down through the rustic arch to meet the Queen. Immediately following the class procession the Queen and her court moved slowly up lovers' lane toward the throne 'neath the Old Oak. The court in the line of march was arranged as follows: Avarid Whitman, the herald, led the procession followed by two guards, Edwin Kratt and Russell Elliott. Next came Prof. Shumaker, the Bishop followed by two guards, Ben Larson and William Swift, and next to the guards were two maids, Esther Telcher and Elizabeth Stewart. The Maid of Honor, Elizabeth Pangborn, preceded the Queen. Next came Her Majesty Queen Mildred I, her four little flower girls, Jeanne Jarrett, Esther Taylor, Margaret Rinard, Geraldine Shank, and her train bearers, Betty Jean VanAtta and Susan Barendrick. Four maids, Mary Ballard, Myrtle Ballard, Mary Louise Andrews, and Alma Carstens were next in the procession followed by two guards, Orin Wilson and Kenneth Riley. The two jesters, Alex Rhine and Jesse Manley were everywhere making fun for everybody.

When the court had arrived upon the royal platform, Princess Mildred I kneeled before the Bishop, who spoke a few words of advice to the Princess and her loyal subjects, and with the impressive dignity befitting such a momentous occasion, crowned her Queen Mildred I in the presence of several hundred loyal subjects of her realm. Queen Mildred is indeed the most beautiful and most gracious queen ever crowned beneath the spreading branches of the Old Oak.

When the Queen had seated herself on the throne and the Bishop had given her the sceptre of authority, the Associated Students sang "Italia." This was followed by the Queen's Proclamation read by the Herald in which the Queen expressed her great love for her subjects and promised a safe and sane reign if all would but obey her summons.

Next a group of Junior High school girls entertained the Queen and the subjects of her realm with the May Pole Dance. This was very beautifully done, and great credit is due Miss Snook for her efforts in making this such a great success.

Mrs. M. D. Warren sang "May Morning" which greatly pleased the gracious Queen as she sat in state on her throne.

The Shepherd Dance by Thelma Miller, Louise Wisecarver, and Madge Feely was one of the most novel and entertaining features of the program. Every step was executed with the greatest of artistic ease and accuracy and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The Walnut City band closed the coronation program, after which the crowd witnessed the burning of the frosh caps and the opening tennis matches with Pacific college.

EXECUTIVE BOARD ELECTS STUDENT BODY MANAGERS

The Executive Board of the Associated Students met Monday afternoon, May 2, and elected the student managers for next year. The elections were very close as it was necessary in several cases to ballot two or three times. The following were elected: Basketball, William Maxwell; Baseball, Edwin Kratt; Track, Russell Elliott; Tennis, Harvey Locke; Soccer, Allan Arnold; Girls' Athletics, Gretta Goude; Oratorical, Sylvester Cross; Glee Club, Orin Wilson.

INDIAN OPERETTA DRAWS BIG CROWD MAY DAY EVENING

"THE FEAST OF THE RED CORN"
SCORES BIG SUCCESS IN
INITIAL PRODUCTION

Large and Appreciative Audience
Hear Glee Club of College

The Indian Operetta, "The Feast of the Red Corn," produced by the Women's Glee club of the college on the evening of May Day in the college chapel was a fitting and successful close to the grand May Day festivities of 1921. The operetta was given before an extremely crowded house. Several minutes before the rise of the curtain, standing room was at a premium.

The stage was decorated with natural firs with an Indian tepee in the background to represent the glen where the feast was celebrated. The smouldering embers and the boiling pot were there and seemed so real that the critics were deceived.

The maidens of the Wanta tribe of Indians had gathered in this secluded spot to celebrate The Feast of the Red Corn. The one, who in the feast finds the first red ear of corn expresses her dearest wish to the Sorceress, who

Well Chosen Caste Under Coaching of Miss Ramsey Pleases Large and Enthusiastic Audience

Last Thursday evening the Preparatory Dramatic Club presented "Safety First" in the College Chapel to a filled and appreciative house. The success of the production was due to the untiring efforts of those who were in the play or helped with it and to Miss Margaret Ramsey, the coach, for her faithfulness and interest.

The leading role is that of an innocent and inoffensive young husband, Jack Montgomery, who is plunged into the abyss of the law after trying to rescue a Turkish maiden from the hands of the police. Jack and his chum Jerry visit Zuleika to aid the interests of Jack's cousin, Elmer Flannel, a shrinking young man. Jack, Jerry and Zuleika are arrested and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

In order to keep the disgrace from Jack's wife and Jerry's fiancée, Virginia, they tell them that they are going to a convention of Shriners by boat. The scheme works and Mabel

A GRAND SUCCESS

Campus Day and May Day were a grand success. Such was the sentiment expressed after the two big days of the years had passed. Although old man Pluvius had threatened bad weather for three weeks previous to the festival days, the water was shut off Wednesday evening late and Thursday and Friday were ideal days.

Campus day was indeed a great success. After the work was done everybody was tired, satisfied and happy. The campus is in first class condition for the rest of the year. The tennis courts and the baseball diamond are ready for the coming battles.

May Day could not have been a better day. An exceedingly large crowd witnessed the coronation and the May exercises and paid homage to the newly crowned queen. The events of the day were a success in every way. Mac didn't make a brilliant showing in the athletic events but everybody is satisfied with the outcome of the day.

The Farce-Comedy "Safety First" and the Operetta "The Feast of the Red Corn" were two of the most successful productions ever put on by McMinnville talent. The chapel was crowded both evenings by enthusiastic and appreciative audiences.

When all has been said and done the general opinion is that the two days were a grand success.

THE COLLEGE MAN'S ATTITUDE

"The college man's attitude is usually wrong. He thinks the future and present are entirely different," Professor Raper of Syracuse University recently told a student meeting. "We must understand that future and present are entirely the same and must be considered as such. One should not wait until tomorrow to go out for activities. The greatest tragedy of college life is the book worm. A good student must develop physically, morally and socially as well as study books. This is the way college life will mean most to the student," he concluded.

COLLEGE CAMPUS PUT IN FIRST CLASS SHAPE THROUGH COOPERATION

Thursday morning at 8:15 the old college bell called the Associated Student Labor Union to order in a chapel assembly where various plans were outlined and the final orders of the day issued. After the meeting places of the committees had been announced the assembly was dismissed and the day's labor begun. White collars, white shirts, and good clothes are taboo on Campus day so the workers appeared in various modes of dress. Overalls, khaki, and patches were generally in evidence. One offender appeared in a soft white collar which was speedily removed after the assembly was dismissed.

The carpenter and greens committee had completed their work on Wednesday evening in a pouring rain. The platforms were in readiness for the decorating committee and several truck loads of fir boughs were on the grounds. The throne committee set to work with a will and by noon the job was nearing completion. The fir chain committee under the direction of Gus Richards made and hung two chains around the entire crowning court, and covered the uprights supporting the chains. They also built two cupola fir arches which added considerably to the campus decorations.

The tennis gang wore many a blister on those tender hands as they faithfully plodded away, but the courts were in the best condition that they have been for any May Day tournament. All five courts were cleaned.

The baseball detail were on the job and put in the diamond in first class shape for the P. C. game.

The grove and gym details put the various walks and the gym in good condition for the big day. Lovers' lane was made safe and strong for those who will indulge.

The chapel platform committee was not seen much during the day because they were busy preparing the stage and scenery for the two festive entertainments. Many compliments were paid the committee for their tireless efforts in completing such a strenuous task.

The famous Y. W. C. A. booth was right on the job when it came to furnishing light refreshments to the tired and weary.

The big feature of the day was the noon lunch. Loda Davis and her committee had the whole affair well planned and they worked their plans. When the college bell tolled twelve o'clock the hungry workers gathered on the campus in front of the main building, each one securing his lunch, and hitting the line for hot beans and coffee. Ice cream was also served and plenty for all with some left over.

Immediately following the lunch a group picture was taken and the entire coronation program for May Day was rehearsed. With this all completed the Labor Union resumed the task of furnishing the work of the day. By four o'clock most of the work was done and the campus was indeed ready for the crowning event on Friday. Several hundred dollars worth of work was done on the campus and today it is in fine condition as a result of the cooperative efforts of the student body to please Her Royal Majesty Queen Mildred I.

The McMinnville Cleaners and Dyers will press your suit right.

FROSH CREMATE GREEN HEADGEAR ON MAY DAY

Shortly after the coronation ceremonies the crowd gathered on the open field of the Old Oak tennis court to witness the cremating of the traditional green headgear of the verdant class. A brisk fire was kindled and the little green lilac covered casket was produced.

With sad hearts the members of the class marched by and deposited their lids in the casket. When the funeral march had ended, Claude Proffitt, class president, spoke a few words in behalf of the departing in which he said, "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust; the sophs couldn't get you, so the fire must."

The little casket was carefully placed upon the burning embers, and ere long the caps were no more. All is well now for the class of '24 are nearing the stage of sophomorehood.

PACIFIC COLLEGE WINS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

McMinnville suffered defeat in tennis on May Day at the hands of Pacific college. The playing was slow and inferior, due to the short training season of both schools and also because of the presence of a strong wind.

Mac lost all the matches played. The ladies singles were not completed, due to an injury to Miss Campbell of P. C. being hit in the left eye by a batted ball.

Following are the results of the matches: Men's Singles—Mac, Fraker; P. C., Hinshaw; Score, 0-6, 0-6.

Men's Doubles—Mac, Noftsinger, Henry; P. C., Terrell, Hinshaw; Score, 6-4, 1-6, 0-6.

Mixed Doubles—Mac, Henry, Dot Smith; P. C., Terrell, Miss Campbell; Score, 6-4, 7-5.

Ladies' Doubles—Mac, Turner, Pentney; P. C., ..... Score, 1-6, 2-6.

Ladies' Singles—Mac, Dot Smith; P. C., Miss Campbell; Score, 4-3.

A bill has been introduced in the senate to prohibit smoking in all government buildings in Washington.

MAC TO MEET RED SKINS ON LOCAL DIAMOND SATURDAY

The fast Chemawa Indian baseball team will be seen in action on the campus next Saturday afternoon when the local ball tossers cross bats with the red skins. Chemawa has defeated Pacific college 9-4 and 4-2, and has let down the Willamette Bearcats with a 1-0 defeat.

McMinnville has a good ball team and if the weather permits the boys to practice during the week the Indians will meet a good team. The defeat last Friday was due to one bad inning choked with errors and not to superior playing by the P. C. aggregation.

The home team will be hitting a fast clip by the week-end as it is expected that Roscoe Larson, the invincible twirler, who has been laid up for some time with a smashed finger, will be in condition to work in the box. With the regular lineup that walloped P. U. going strong, the Red Skins can look forward to a real battle.

The Indians are the big drawing card on the local diamond. They are probably the snappiest team that will be seen in action here this year and every student in college should be out there backing the home team in every play.

QUEEN MILDRED I ENTERTAINS COURT AT NOON-DAY LUNCHEON

Queen Mildred I royally entertained her court at a dainty luncheon served during the noon-hour of May Day and immediately following the conclusion of the first two tennis matches with Pacific college. The luncheon was prepared by several of the loyal feminine subjects of the realm who had labored faithfully to please and to win favor in the eyes of Her Royal Majesty.

The tables were arranged beneath the spreading branches of the "silent oak" that stands in the grove through which lovers' lane wends its lonely way. The table decorations were very beautiful and exceedingly appropriate. A miniature may pole was erected in the center of the table with pink streamers stretching to the individual plates and anchored to the nut cups.

The queen was seated at the head of the table from which position she graciously smiled upon the festive party whom she was honoring at the initial luncheon as queen of her realm. The Maid of Honor, the herald, the bishop, six maids, six guards, and two court jesters, as members of the court of Queen Mildred I, enjoyed this festive occasion.

Besides the members of the court the guests of the queen were: Mr. and Mrs. Christenson, father and mother of the queen; Miss Marjorie Christenson, the queen's sister; Miss Coral Graham, cousin of the queen; and Professor and Mrs. E. B. VanOsdel.

ALPHA GAMMA NU GIVES EIGHTH ANNUAL BANQUET

Several Former Students Back for the Occasion

The Alpha Gamma Nu Fraternity held its Eighth Annual Banquet at the W. O. W. hall Saturday evening, May seventh.

When all had arrived and with everything in readiness the guests and the hosts were ushered into an elaborately decorated dining room. At each place on the table was a little Alpha Gamma Nu lamp with the fraternity insignia on three sides and the person's name on the other. The room was decorated to give an out of doors effect with artificial moonlight streaming in thru the windows on the side. The tables were arranged in a diamond shape and the center was filled with a fountain and evergreens while suspended above the fountain was a central lighting system.

Alpha Gamma Nu were glad to have with them so many members of former years.

Those who were able to come back for the banquet were Andy Wakeman, Loche Mardis, Ralph Doud, Paul Scott, Blair Stewart, Charles Stewart and Earl Evans, the last two mentioned being charter members of the organization.

Professor Van Osdel acted as Toastmaster, with Dean Stewart responding to a toast on Anticipations, while Earl Druse pledged his toast to our guests and Oscar Meddaugh toasted the Nobility. Charles Stewart responded to a request for a word from some of the old men by directing the thoughts of his toast to Prof. Van Osdel who leaves this year. Loche Mardis and Andrew Wakeman followed with short speeches. Prof. Shumaker, the new faculty member of the fraternity, brought the toasts to a close with a speech that was very appropriate for the occasion. A delightful program was given after the toasts. Llewellyn Sanderman played a piano solo. Blair Stewart favored those present with a reading. Paul Scott who sang a solo was followed by Allrick Erickson who gave the audience something worth while along the lines of character analysis. Orin Wilson and Llewellyn Sanderson played a piano duet. The Alpha Gamma Nu quartet finished the program with a selection. After the singing of the fraternity song the hour was late and home was the word.

Those who were the guests of the fraternity were: Vivian Stewart, Rachel Cabeen, Mildred Christenson, Delia Ingram, Grace Edmunds, Helen Skinner, Laura Payton, Thelma Green, Edna Polson, Elizabeth Stewart, Susie Steele, Mary Stewart, Louise Skinner, Edna Yoder, Mrs. Andrew Wakeman, Helen Ankcorn, Mildred Westerfield, Helen Jane Ferguson, Zelda Peard, Mrs. E. B. Van Osdel, Ruth Granlund, Ida Miller, Minnie Wangen, Mary Louise Andrews, Margaret Ramsey, Miss Belleter.

I. O. M. SMOKER

On Saturday afternoon after the matinee Iota Omega Nu hiked to the Hickok farm. Upon arrival a few exhibition bouts were staged, and then a bout with enormous amounts of rolls, egg sandwiches, and coffee.

To work off the effects of supper, Hoberg and Coe, Larson and Hansard staged a very fast and exciting double wrestling match. Then matchmaker Bill Maxwell presented his card for the evening's entertainment. Kid Swift stayed in the ring with one-round Maxwell in a fast and furious three-and Virginia bid them a tearful farewell. In the second act the ladies have received word from the steamboat company that Jack and Jerry are not to be found on board and have probably been washed overboard and drowned. They are heart-broken and don't deep mourning for the loved ones they never expect to see again.

Jack and Jerry, in jail, know nothing of this, and when their thirty days expire they return to the ladies, full of joy and explanations of their wonderful trip to Florida. It takes some tall explaining to show why they were not drowned, and when Mrs. Bridger, the mother of the girls, learn that Zuleika has been missing for thirty days, she naturally thinks that she accompanied the boys to Florida. Mabel decides to return to her mother's roof and never see Jack again.

The third act straightens out the tangle after a series of laughable events culminating in an elopement down a ladder in which Jack, who thinks he is eloping with Mabel, his wife, finds that the lady he is running away with the Irish cook, Mary Ann O'Finnerty.

The play was full of pep and humor and the parts were all taken remarkably well. Especially is the work of Marie Kilgore to be commended. The cast of characters is as follows:

 College is to receive an annual grant of ten thousand dollars during the four years of the campaign, to help defray current expenses. The General Education Board meets again on May twenty-seventh and the action of the board on the McMinnville College request will be wired following that meeting. The two representatives seemed very favorably impressed with the College and its work.

The gist of Doctor Buttrick's address in Chapel was that every day is an opportunity for one to do his best. He pointed out that it was this factor that counted a great deal more than we might suppose. Thomas A. Edison, according to the speaker, is one of the most stupid men he had ever met, yet Edison has a great capacity for work. It is not always the valedictorians of the college class that make the big successes in life but rather where these people fail the average man and woman by persistent effort surpasses them and stands out in prominence while they are left in the background. The speaker brot a very interesting message and left with his audience a new inspiration for renewed effort.

calls upon the gods of the Four Winds to give a sign that the wish will be granted. This year the Queen joined the maidens, hoping to get the red ear because of her great desire to know of the welfare of the King who has long been absent in Northern warfare. The Old Squaw, the sorceress, was unable to get a sign from the Four Winds because of the mischief wrought by Impee Light, the Queen's sister, who is during the feast threatened with burning. Finally Impee Light atones for her mischief by saving the lives of the Queen's children who were drowning, and the Sorceress again calls on the Four Winds. The sign is granted, and the Queen gets her wish.

Mildred Jones, as Queen Weeda Wanta; Jessie Jeffery, as Impee Light; and Esther Telcher, as the Old Squaw deserve special mention for their part in the production. Each one was at her best and were highly complimented by the audience. Fudgee Pudgee, and Wudgee, the three children of the queen, were well represented by Leona Walker, Eva Gou'e and Dorothy Campbell. The several members of the Glee club very ably took the part of the maidens of the tribe.

"Mother" Potter deserves a great deal of credit for the success of the operetta. She worked long and faithfully, and was ably assisted by Mrs. C. F. Richards as Dramatic Coach, and by Prof. Richards as Stage Manager. Halsey Carstens on the piano, and Kenneth Hickok with the Tom-Toms furnished the wierd, Indian music creating a mistic atmosphere.

The Operetta will be given in Sheridan next Friday evening.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said, "We need a rest, so do the Profs." If such there be, let him come forward and take the elastic crowbar.—Silver and Gold.

As Bill was going out one night His mother questioned: "Whither?" And Bill, not wishing to deceive, With flushes answered: "With her."

There are times when it is important to speak, but more times when it is important not to speak.

When you are about to complain, pause and reflect on how little heed you pay to the complaints of others.
