Regular Basket Practice Starts

Seven Letter Men in School

FIRST TEAM PRACTICE TO START THIS WEEK

With but one more class game to be played the turnout for the college team will begin next week. There seems to be plenty of material in school for a winning team. There are seven letter men in school and with but one possible exception these men will be out bidding strong for their old positions while part of last year's second team will be running them a close race. Several good men are expected in the Freshmen class and are counted on to develop into first class players before the season is over.

The schedule this year promises to be one of the best the college has had for several years with eight games in the Independent College conference and a possibility of several other games with other school and athletic clubs.

This is also the first year that the college has had a regular coach in as much as that he is one of the faculty and the coaching of athletics one of his duties. The last two years Howard Gildea has given all the time he could spare from his profession to the team and the work he did bore fruits these past two years and men that he trained last year will again be in suit this year and the training they received from him will go a long ways in making them efficient members of this year's team. For several years the college has rented the city auditorium for a basket ball hall which was in a way a handicap on account of its being so far from the college and the fact that the time for practice had to be divided with the high school. This year the new gym on the campus gives the team a good floor right at their door and plenty of time for practice.

The letter men are Ben Larson, who has played on the college teams for several years and after laying out a year, came back last year and made his place on the team at forward. Ben has been going good in the class games and ought to be a good man on the offense this year.

Hikok played his first college ball last year and showed up exceptionally well at forward, being a good floor man as well as basket getter.

Propp played forward on the team last year but he says that he won't have time to come out this year. It is hoped that he will be persuaded to find the time for basket ball. He is a good man and Propp could be counted on to fill either of the forward positions.

Kraat at guard is a man that can be relied upon to do his part at guard and his ability to convert the free ones into counters makes a valuable asset to the team.

Llewellyn Larson, the dark horse of last year's team, is beyond doubt a good guard and can be relied upon to break the opponents offensive.

Hoberg was one of the guards last year who did not get in the game as much as the others, but when he was there he gave a good account of himself and will doubtless come in for his share of playing this year.

Captain Milton Coe is in a class all of his own when it comes to the center position. His height gives him a big advantage over his opponents on the tip off. He plays the floor well, especially on the defense and can be counted on for a few points in nearly every game. He is fast for so large a man and plays the game every minute.

Henry, Scott, Mansard, Paul, Elliot, and Bliss of last year's second team will be strong contenders for positions on the team.

The new material that showed up in the class games was in the Freshmen class. The Rocks who will bid strongest for positions on the team are Miller, Brock, Dulin, Art Wilson, Gowan, Doak and Bertleson.

Independent College Conference Meets

Presidents Attend Faculty Meet at Forest Grove

Friday and Saturday the Fifteenth Annual Meeting of the Conference of presidents and faculties of the Independent Colleges of Oregon was held at Pacific University in Forest Grove.

The institutions represented at this conference were Albany College, Eugene College, Pacific University, Pacific College, Pacific University, Philomath College, Reed College and Willamette University.

Professor Schlauch and Professor Shumaker represented McMinnville College. Professor Schlauch was on the program, giving an address upon "The Influence of Philosophy upon National Ideas and Ideals."

The program of the meeting of the conference was:

OFFICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Miss Caroline Moore has been elected to the faculty of the University in the department of science. Miss Moore will teach Zoology and Geology. She has taught at McMinnville, Oregon. More will be heard from Miss Moore later.

The above comes from the University of Redlands.

While Miss Moore was here she was head of the Department of Biology. She also served in the capacity of Dean of Women.

As a professor and as a students friend, Miss Moore will long be remembered in McMinnville. Redlands is to be congratulated on securing such a professor.

Manning-Brixey Nuptials

The beautiful country home of C. T. Brixey was the scene of a charming wedding on Wednesday evening, November twenty-third, when Rev. C. L. Trawin, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated at the marriage of Miss Pebble Brixey and Mr. John Manning.

Miss Brixey is a girl of attractive personality and is the daughter of C. T. Brixey of this city. She attended McMinnville College two years ago and is a member of Kappa Alpha Phi sorority. This year Miss Brixey has been registered at O. A. C.

Mr. Manning is a son of J. C. Manning of this city. At one time he attended McMinnville College, was a member of Alpha Gamma Nu fraternity and completed his studies at O. A. C. where he majored in Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning will make their home in Corvallis where the groom is engaged in business. The best wishes of their many friends follow them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kopf entertained John Crump in their home Thanksgiving day.

Rev. C. O. Johnson Gives Talk in Chapel; The Man who can Make a Hit, is Theme

"Wanted a Man Who Can Get a Hit," was the address brought to the students by Rev. C. O. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Tacoma at the regular chapel hour Tuesday.

Rev. Johnson won the entire student body and faculty with his clever stories, especially those of the colored people, before he began his address.

He said in part: He chose the story of David and Goliath as the scriptural and historical background for his talk. He put this great episode of history into the baseball terms and brought the students a real message and a clear call to victory thru service. In baseball terms the game was in the ninth inning, two men on, two men out, the home team to the bat, and a hit was needed to win the game.

For forty days the Philistines sat in the grandstand waiting for some one to come to bat so that Goliath could fan him out and they could take the Israelites as their captives. The ground rules were the winner take all, and the Philistines had their team on the field but the Israelites had no pinch hitter. These men failed to deliver the goods. David came to camp and after finding out what was the matter wanted to step up to the plate and get his hit. They laughed at him saying, "Kid what is your batting average?" He replied, "While tending my father's sheep I killed a bear and took a lamb away from him." They marveled and then going on with his story he raised his batting average by telling of the killing of a lion that had also taken a lamb from the flock. They agreed to let him bat, but he must use their bat and hold the trade mark up. But he was awkward and clumsy in the armor and with the sword. He discarded these and took the sling that he had made himself and stepped to the plate. Groans from his own bleachers and sneers from the grandstand of the Philistines was all the greeting and support for him. He stepped to the plate, took the first one and got his hit. The Israelites conquered but it was the man who could hit when the others couldn't that won the victory.

The Philistines counted only on physical force and failed to take God into the game with them, while David went forward with God on his side and scored the victory.

Our success depends upon the place of God in our hearts. Be prepared for the time may come today, tomorrow or next year, or may be in twenty-five years when you will be the pinch hitter who will be the man who can hit. When you successfully meet the crisis you score the everlasting victory if you step to the plate with God.

The talk closed with story of Dr. Gonzales nephew, who had just graduated from high school, yet was called to the bat and delivered his hit. While preparing to live, remember that you are living.

STUDENTS RECEIVE BIDS
By the time the Review is placed in the students hands the fraternity and sorority bids will have been placed in the hands of the students.

The bids will be given out by Professor Payne, who will act in the place of the Dean of Women, who left for Spokane yesterday. The bids were placed in the hands of Professor Payne before six o'clock Tuesday evening. The bids will all be out by noon Wednesday with the possible exception of those who are not able to be in school on account of sickness.

During the forty-eight hours from nine o'clock Wednesday morning until the bids may be answered the rules of the Interfraternity conference will be in force and the students are requested to follow closely these regulations.

ROAD NOW IS COMPLETELY GRAVELED
The road that leads into the college buildings from the rear of the administration building has been graveled and is now in good shape for use. Other years this road has been a veritable sea of mud. This driveway is used a good deal as it is the only way that a vehicle can get to the main part of the campus.

This is a good improvement and seems to be in keeping with the policy of progress adopted by the administration.

DEAN LINFIELD

DEAN OF WOMEN GOES TO SPOKANE

Talking in chapel yesterday, Mrs. Linfield said, "I told you when I came to you that I am a business woman and now my business takes me away. I go to Spokane this afternoon. I hate to leave you but I will return as soon as I can. Remember my advice don't work too hard."

During her absence Miss Salmons will act as Dean of Women.

On Tuesday evening before the Thanksgiving recess the Seniors and Juniors played the last game of the class basketball series. The Seniors led from the first, scoring their first basket within about the first ten seconds of play. The Seniors outclassed the wearers of the cords, who could seem to get together Ben Larson starred for the Seniors by making 20 points. The final score was 24 to 12.

Work outs for the first team places started on Monday evening with a good showing of material. Keep it up!

THE FISHER COMPANY

Last Tuesday, the twenty-second, the Fisher Co. entertained the local lyceum patrons, with a musical number, which included several "skits" in costume. These numbers were occasionally varied with readings by the pianist, who proved to be very good at such work. The company was not as advertised, but nevertheless, it was an evening well spent and we only regret that more people were not present to enjoy the numbers on the program.

The Zeta Chi sorority had another of their jolly pot-luck suppers at the home of Ruth O'Keefe Tuesday evening, November twenty-second. Because of lyceum there was just time for a brief business meeting before we had to bid our hostess farewell.

RUEL MARSH LEADS

Those who did not go to B. Y. P. U. last Sunday evening missed an excellent meeting on Missions led by Ruel Marsh.

Dr. Young will be with the society next Sunday. It is urged that all the members and friends be present for he has a real message for young people.

The devotional committee met and appointed the following people leaders for the rest of the quarter.

A NEW ORGANIZATION

The C. B. B.'s spent a very enjoyable evening together on Tuesday, November 22, at the abode of the Misses Hilda Schutt and Marie Kilgore. After the meeting, a car awaited the girls and in this they journeyed to Lyceum. After the splendid program, the group enjoyed a birthday cake at the apartment of Marguerite Bledsoe. All members are looking forward to the next meeting.

Thanksgiving Vacation Over

Many Jolly Parties; Many Spent Thanksgiving at Home

The brief recess given for Thanksgiving is over and Sunday afternoon, evening and early Monday morning found the trains full of students returning to school.

Many students whose homes were close by were able to spend their Thanksgiving with parents at home, while others spent the holidays with relatives and friends out of town, and those who remained here spent their vacation with friends here.

Those returning Sunday from their recess were: Mary Louise Andrews, who visited with relatives in Hillsboro; Helen Skinner, who was with her parents at Hillsboro; Llewellyn Sanderman from his home at Rex; John Dulin, who visited with his brother in Portland; Alice Schmidt, Cecile Graham, Earnest Losli, Edwin Kratt, Lillian Bueermann spent their vacation at their home in Portland. Minnie Larson, Della Ingram, and Hilda Schutt, who visited at the Bueermann home; Esther Telcher, who spent her vacation with relatives in Portland, Zelta Peard, who was with relatives in Portland, and Edene Moore who visited in Portland.

Bernice Hubble returned from her vacation with her folks at Hoquiam. Evelyn Hayton from visiting her parents at Mt. Vernon, Leona Walker and Alice McKnight who spent their vacation with their parents in Tacoma. Irene Miller, who was at her home in Astoria, ern Wright, Vance Bingham and Harvey Locke spent their vacation at Vancouver at the Locke home.

George Paul and Ensign Courtier were at their homes in Falls City, Elmer Dierks at his home in Salem and Ira Compton at Independence.

The Bueermann home in Portland was the scene of a happy Mac reunion Saturday night during the holidays. In spite of the generous offering of Brother Pluvius, spirits were not dampened in the least and chief of all was the spirit of Old Mac. Among those present were the Misses Minnie Kirsch, Twila Sims, Hilda Schutt, Esther Telcher, Zelta Peard, Della Ingram, Minnie Larson, Lillian Bueermann, Emma Bueermann, Margarite Bueermann, and the Messrs Edwin Osgood, Hugh Dowd, Lloyd Emory, Paul Billeter, Edward Bernst, Heinie Weiss, Ben Larson, Raymond Bueermann.

The Vancouver home of the Misses Effie and Clara Locke, sisters of Harvey Locke, was the destination of one of the many parties which left McMinnville for the Thanksgiving holidays. Four days of feasting and merry-making followed, during which the hostesses proved themselves excellent entertainers, providing some sort of amusement to fill each otherwise idle hour. Thursday evening a theatre party was staged. All pronounced it a very delightful evening. About twenty guests were invited in Friday evening and a good time was had by all. Games and a light luncheon constituted the program. Saturday's recreation included an automobile party from 6:30 to 10 p. m. The days were spent largely in eating, but hiking and Rook assisted in keeping the minds of the party off the rainy weather.

The party was composed of Messrs Vance Bingham, John Dulin, Harvey Locke, and Bern Wright.

IDA MILLER ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

During the Thanksgiving holidays, Miss Ida Miller entertained a number of her girl friends at a sewing-bee. A careful observer could surely know that it was not long until Christmas, as was evidenced by the beautiful things the girls were sewing. Toward the latter part of the afternoon, delicious home-made ice-cream and cookies served to please the palates of all. The guests were, Alma Carstens, Janet Riley, Ruth Riley, Loda Davis, Marie Kilgore, Olga Anderson, Ruth Younkin, Jamie Farmer, Mattie Bean, Josephine Turner, Flora Maloney, Ola Davis, Vina Finley, and Alice Oliver.

DO YOUR OWN THINKING

The power of thought has not yet dawned upon a great many students. Too many seem to be afraid to think. They lack faith in their own mental capacity. In faith it is not uncommon to find people who refuse to read any literature that differs from the ideas they entertain lest their minds be upset thereby and they find it necessary to alter their viewpoint.

We find that such people have never had any part in the world's progress. They belong to the class who say, "What's the use, what is good enough for father is good enough for me." God created us free and gave us dominion over all the earth, but this dominion can come about only as we make use of the power of thought. Those who are timid in the use of their own mental faculties, might well meditate upon the following quotation: "The man that does not do his own thinking is a slave and a traitor to himself and his fellow men."

Are you such a slave and a traitor? Do you allow your mind to run along the rut of conventional thought? Or are you making use of your mental capacities—exercising them so as to promote growth and development and avoid disuse atrophy? Are you guilty of accepting or rejecting ideas without rhyme or reason? One is as bad as the other as neither requires any exercise on the part of our mental powers and leaves us open to the imputation of the above quotation.

"As a man thinketh, so is he." We have it within our power to go onward and upward to noble things or downward to failure and defeat, the determining factor being the character of our thoughts. So often when someone promulgates the principles of a new invention or some new idea, he is met with bitter and unrelenting opposition. Even those who might have received great benefit from it, point the finger of scorn at him and continue to nurse their infirmities, saying, "It can't be done."

However, new things are constantly springing forth and grow by leaps and bounds. And so your own life might be bettered if you would do your own thinking and dismiss pre-conceived ideas and prejudices. It is all right to consult ready made opinions of established authority, but it is well to remember that many such opinions in the past have proved to be erroneous and absurd. The guiding compass in the realm of thought is reason, and if we will stick by this compass we need have no fear about the ultimate result.

The Apostle Paul said, "Prove all things, abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good." Paul was well qualified to give this bit of advice, as he himself had been a conspicuous example of one actuated and biased by the opinions of established authorities. He refused to have anything to do with Christian teaching until his remarkable experience on the road to Damascus. With reason as our guide, we can well afford to do our own thinking and our lives will be all the richer both mentally and physically as a natural result.

It is doubtful if on any great moral issue since slavery there has been evidence of such a rapid and spontaneous marshaling of moral convictions of students as seem to be taking place right now in the American colleges. Doubtless there will be those who feel that this is a matter with which students should not concern themselves. Some may even be intimidated by the word "propaganda." It is well to recall that in the colleges of the world are tens of thousands of students who, as officers in the late war, learned the futility of war as a means for settling international difficulties. The overwhelming part played by scientific skill in successful warfare today makes it clear that the colleges have a great stake in this disarmament issue. Shall we longer tolerate a condition that prostitutes all the finer processes of education for the purpose of destruction of those human values which it is the purpose of education to develop?

OAK LEAVES

The Editor and Manager are carefully laying their plans for the publication of the annual "Oak Leaves." This year they promise us a real annual of which we can all be proud on one condition and that is that each and every student does his or her part. If it is in getting your picture taken go have it done at once. If it is something else they want you to do, do it and be glad that you had the opportunity to help. Let us hoost for a bigger and better annual by working for it and helping those who have the responsibility of publishing this book in any way that they see fit to call on us.

THEY PUT THE THANKS IN THANKSGIVING

"Many students were not able to go to their homes for the brief Thanksgiving holidays. No doubt they often wished that they could be with relatives yet the people of the town and friends of the students were so kind to them that they are still talking of the good times they had and they never will forget them. The people who so kindly remembered the students away from home really and truly put the Thanks in Thanksgiving."

THE RECENT STORM

While we have done much complaining about the incessant down pour of rain we are fortunate here in McMinnville that but little property has been damaged and no lives have been lost. While we are thankful that we have thus been favored yet we sympathize with those who were less fortunate.

STATEMENT INCORRECT

In last week's issue in an editorial under the Spirit of Old Mac contained some statements that were not correct. We regret this and take this means of correcting these unjust remarks.

"WHITE COLLAR" JOBS LURE STUDENTS, BELIEF

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 27.—Superficial attraction of a "white collar" job was given by Prof. J. H. Hildebrand of the chemistry department as one of the greatest failings of students in their choice of careers.

He believes many young people have taken up their work upon some unconscious logic as: "Many physicians have made a great deal of money; I will be a physician, therefore I will make a great deal of money."

"The best thing that the University can do for a student is not to give him training for a single trade, but to train him to think and act," said Professor Hildebrand.

In selecting our college course do we pick out something that sounds easy and gives promise of large pecuniary compensation or do we consider the course from the standpoint of the training it will give us that will enable us to think clearly and act accordingly in many of the daily activities. The course that develops the student to the highest degree of his possibilities is the one that should be carefully considered before laying it aside for the ones that tend to a one-sided development. A trade or a profession in these days is an absolute necessity but we believe that training that develops the student to the limit of all of his or her capacities first is to be seriously considered.

THE DASH

From now until Christmas is but a dash, so to speak. If we are behind in the race let us sprint to catch up and have a clear slate when Christmas vacation calls a halt in our studies. Then after vacation we will be able to toe the mark along with the next fellow and not be staring out on the final lap a quarter or half a lap behind.

In a sense we cannot make up our lost opportunities but by good consistent work now we can raise the average for the year and after all it is the man that crosses the tape first that wins. The man that leads the first lap may be at the end of the string when the last lap is completed. Bring up your average during this period and be on top when the whistle blows

Social Activities

Edited by ALICE OLIVER

One of the interesting parties during vacation was a progressive Roxy party given by Miss Dorothea Reichert. Miss Ola Davis and William Scott carried high score, Dorothea Reichert and Ray Geise ranking second.

Mr. and Mrs. Doud Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doud entertained a number of the students in their home Thanksgiving day.

At noon a delicious dinner was served to the guests. The football game was part of the program. After the game back to the Doud home for lunch and then Rook was the game of the hour until the guests felt the call of Mother Nature as she warned them with drowsy eyelids and stifled yawns that the hour of departure was at hand.

Those present were Greta Goude, Allan Arnold, Worth Wright and Harold Bliss.

Dinner "A La Style"

Mr Henry Dirksen entertained Mr. Walter Harcourt at a dinner Sunday evening in the spacious quarters of his apartment at Jewell Inn.

The following menu was served:
Celery "bien"
Sandwiches a la mode

Redlands to be Congratulated

Two former McMinnville professors, who hold a large place in the hearts of students of Mac, are now in the University of Redlands. The students of McMinnville College congratulate Redlands on these two professors and our loss is Redlands gain, but it seems that it must be so and we hope that they may come to hold a large place in the student body at Redlands and mean as much to them as they have meant to us here.

STUDENTS ENTERTAINED

College students were entertained Thanksgiving day at the Moore home on Adams street. Another group of students spent the day with Mrs. Haynes on Crawford avenue.

PART OF DRAMATIC TRYOUTS

Part of the aspirants for membership in the college Dramatic club tried out in the Music hall Tuesday afternoon. The rest of the tryouts will be held next week. A large number are planning to try out and the decision of the judges will not be given until the tryouts are completed. There will be no public announcement about those who were successful in the tryouts but a sealed bid will be sent to those who are chosen to become members of this organization.

IN THE SICK ROOM

Several students have been reported sick since vacation, some are quarantined on account of others having the smallpox in the same house.

Edwin Berger, who were to Portland to spend Thanksgiving vacation at home, was unable to return to school the first of the week on account of a severe attack of the grip.

Wayne Miller, who has been confined to his home in Portland for the past four weeks with pneumonia, returned to school Sunday but was forced to go back home Tuesday morning on account of set back after he thought that he had fully recovered.

Walter Gowen has been confined to his home this week.

Ruth Younkin was taken with a severe headache Saturday evening and has been confined to her bed since. The doctor is not sure as yet whether her sickness is smallpox or not.

The Odell house on B street, where a number of students room, is under quarantine. Laurence Pugh has the smallpox.

The Ballard home is also quarantined for the smallpox. It is reported that Marion Swift has the smallpox.

Helen Ankoorn is unable to attend school on account of being quarantined.

With so many sick it seems advisable that all the students exercise the greatest precaution to prevent an epidemic of smallpox from spreading thru the college.

and the stage will all be set for a good Christmas vacation.

Professor Margaret Ramsey and Lean Northup of the faculty have been on the sick list during the past few days.

Neppie Ecll is out of school on account of sickness.

Y. W. C. A. AND Y. M. C. A. HOLD JOINT MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. met in the chapel last Wednesday for a joint meeting. It was a time of thanksgiving for all, and suppressed excitement and joy could easily be felt in the atmosphere.

After a short, rousing, song service led by Mr. Dirksen, Professor Schumaker took charge of the meeting and gave a splendid talk on, "Our Hour," and the use we should make of it. Then followed a few minutes of thanksgiving testimonials by the students, bringing out the many things for which we should be grateful, as we once again come to the day of thanksgiving.

STANFORD CELEBRATES ANNUAL "ROUGHS" DAY

Stanford University, Nov. 22. (P. I. N. S.)—Attired in wierd and rough creations, students celebrated the annual "roughs" day here today with gusto. Engineering, English and Law groups, rivaled each other in the display of hard times costumes and in the staging of grotesque stunts. Those wearing white collars or neckties were treated to free dress, revisions by hard "roughs."

Bans were put on shaves last Monday. The barbers are due for a big business tomorrow, when the normal paths of life are resumed.

TO TOUR JAPAN

It is possible that Washington's Glee club, of twenty-five men, will hold a series of concerts in the leading cities of Japan during January or February as a plan presented in a recent letter from Merville McInnis, graduate manager in Japan, proves feasible.

McInnis' letter, which was received yesterday, states that the Japanese booking agency which is anxious to get the Glee club, promises all the expenses of the men and a percentage of the gate receipts. Darwin Meisnest, graduate manager, immediately cabled McInnis to make a thorough investigation of the proposition, which will be taken up when McInnis returns with the baseball team, December 15. Meisnest will present the plan at the next meeting of the Board of Control.

Washington's baseball team is playing before crowds of thirty and forty thousand persons, according to McInnis' letter. They have won eleven out of fifteen games and are the first team to have defeated the University of Waseda. The men have been entertained by the royalty and nobility of Japan.—U. of W. Daily.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

General Pershing's visit to France and the trip of Marshal Foch to the United States serve as reminders of a vocational school for war orphans near Paris. This institution keeps constantly before the French orphan boys under its protection the sentiment and friendship that have long united France and America.

This boys' school, founded at Champagne, near the historic city of Fontainebleau, is called the Lafayette school, and one of the little summer houses on the estate has been named "Pavilion Pershing," while the other is called "Pavilion Washington." This grouping of names of famous Americans calculated to stimulate interest in the United States on the part of the young students, is further strengthened by the fact that the school children of America through the medium of the Junior American Red Cross supplied the funds to buy the property for the school and substantial donations were made by individual Americans. The Junior American Red Cross is also responsible for a subsidy given to a farm school attached to the Lafayette school, known as the "Pittsburgh Farm School."

How Were X-Rays Discovered?

SIR James Mackenzie Davidson visited Professor Roentgen to find out how he discovered the X-rays.

Roentgen had covered a vacuum tube, called a Hitroff or Crookes tube, with black paper so as to cut off all its light. About four yards away was a piece of cardboard coated with a fluorescent compound. He turned on the current in the tube. The cardboard glowed brightly.

Sir James asked him: "What did you think?"

"I didn't think, I investigated," said Roentgen. He wanted to know what made the cardboard glow. Only planned experiments could give the answer. We all know the practical result. Thousands of lives are saved by surgeons who use the X-rays.

Later on, one of the scientists in the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company became interested in a certain phenomenon sometimes observed in incandescent lamps. Others had observed it, but he, like Roentgen, investigated. The result was the discovery of new laws governing electrical conduction in high vacuum.

Another scientist in the same laboratory saw that on the basis of those new laws he could build a new tube for producing X-rays more effectively. This was the Coolidge X-ray tube which marked the greatest advance in the X-ray art since the original discovery by Roentgen.

Thus, scientific investigation of a strange phenomenon led to the discovery of a new art, and scientific investigation of another strange phenomenon led to the greatest improvement in that art.

It is for such reasons that the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are continually investigating, continually exploring the unknown. It is new knowledge that is sought. But practical results follow in an endless stream, and in many unexpected ways.

KNIGHTS ORGANIZE

The initial steps in the organization of a body as the Knights of Hooks as existing at the U. of W. were taken Monday morning at a joint assembly of the Freshmen and Sophomore men. A committee was appointed to draw up rules governing the organization and to submit the most suitable name possible. Much enthusiasm was displayed by various ones present. Undoubtedly an organized body such as proposed will raise the Mac spirit to a still higher level.

As planned, the scope of this body of underclassmen will be to usher at games, meet and entertain visiting teams, see the home team to and from the station, attend to the bulletin board and assist the Yell Leader in arousing enthusiasm for athletic events.

The organization of Knights when properly functioning will represent a progressive step in line with other forward strides of our college. Many other schools are organizing similar groups of underclassmen, which are proving successful. The Knights plan to have the organization completed by the beginning of the basketball season, "Fight on Knights for the Spirit of Old Mac." Students are ready to stand behind you for our alma mater.

Claude Proffitt, whose home is in Dayton, has been unable to attend school since vacation. It is reported that he has a high fever and is quite sick. He also is bothered by injuries received while trying to save livestock during the recent high water.

McMINNVILLE COLLEGE AN ASSET TO THE COUNTY

McMinnville college is truly an asset to Yamhill county in more ways than one. It is known throughout the country and serves as a good advertising medium for this section in that we have a first class institution of higher learning located here.

Many young people from other states come to this section to attend the college and also many families come to McMinnville in order to be with their children while they are in college. When they return to their homes they carry the messages of the wonderful Oregon country and of this section. While located here it is true considerable money is spent with the local merchants and this money naturally circulates in the county. Many of the students and many of the families make this community their permanent home eventually.

McMinnville college offers strong courses in the classical, philosophical and pre-medical lines. Many of our local high school students are now entering McMinnville college because they can find there a high grade of work and the advantages, which are found elsewhere. The additional attraction is that they are able to remain at home and still attend an institution of high standard.

The local college has a reputation throughout the country and it is to the interests of everyone in this section to help the local college maintain the high reputation and also to work to make the institution bigger and broader and better in every way. McMinnville college is the people's college and the stronger it can be made, the better it is for the future citizens. The college must continue to send out real men and women into the world; men and women, who will dare to face the opposition firmly, when they are standing for truth and right and courtesy. Men and women, who will follow their own high appreciation of the truth and right though the Heavens may fall.

McMinnville college is an asset to this community and to the nation, in that it sends out men and women, who dare to do the right, broad minded and filled with visions of greater and nobler things. The "Dawn of a New Day" is at hand for our college and the hope and prayer of everyone in this community and of every one connected in any way with the college should be, that it will grow higher, better and finer each passing year. Boost the college to bigger and finer things and you will be boosting the nation, the community and yourself. —Telephone Register.

CONSTITUTIONAL COMMITTEE

The constitutional committee are hard at work on the work of revising the old constitution. One of the main things that they are discussing and probably will recommend to be put in the constitution in the Honor System.

Other schools are having great success with the honor system. Why can't McMinnville college have it? She can if the students are for it and are part of it. Let us be up and doing and go on record as the others have, testifying to the success of the honor system.

"Have you ever been married?" asked the judge.
"Ye-es," stammered the prisoner.
"To whom?"
"A woman sir," answered the guilty one.
"Of course it was a woman," snapped the judge, "Did you ever hear of anyone marrying a man?"
"Yes, sir," said the prisoner brightly, "my sister did."—The Trail.

JAMES ALBY HILL, OF BERKELEY, WALKS FROM COAST TO COAST ON A CRUTCH

"Morning waits at the end of the world and the world is all at our feet," Kipling was right. The gypsy trail gets us all sooner or later. Pick up any paper and you will find some one who has started or is finishing a long hike. But they are usually young persons, not pleasant men of sixty-seven with a crutch.

Did you happen to see a little old man with long white hair on the campus this week, carrying a crutch under one arm and grasping with his hand a small black bag? Allow me to present to you Mr. James Alby Hill of Berkeley, California, who left home July 26 on a transcontinental walking trip.

"I am walking solely for health not wealth," says Mr. Hill, adding with a cheerful smile, "it's determination that counts in a trip like this."

But as he goes he stops at all the important places and gets the signatures of college presidents, governors, state officials and mayors in an auto-graph album which he carries in his little black bag. He doesn't stop with signatures, however. He is a sort of Mercury with a crutch.

He carries with him a letter of greeting from Governor Hart of Washington to Governor Cox of Massachusetts, from President Wilbur of Stanford to W. W. Guth at Goucher College, Baltimore, Maryland; from Mayor Roth of San Francisco to Mayor Hylan of New York; and from Portland, Oregon, to Portland, Maine. He gets copies of these letters, so that he can paste one in his book and deliver the other.

In the black bag there is also a camera which he uses to take pictures of all the interesting spots he comes across in his travels. These he pastes in another book, which he calls his "art souvenir book." It starts out with a picture of himself in the Pacific ocean and is to end with a picture in the Atlantic.

"Those books will be valuable some day," you think enviously. It won't do you any good to covet them, for they will not be for sale. Five year old grandson "Jimmie," is going to get them.

Talk of your tales of a grandfather!

Let us be glad of good things full of the comfort germs.

We thank thee that our book of life so often opens to white, unwritten pages.

The very best way to get ability is to do thoroughly whatever you do.

Go often to the house of thy friend for weeds choke up the unused path.

Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but rising every time we fall.

Life indeed must be measured by that and actions and not by time.

Our duty is to be useful, not accord to our desires, but to our powers.

One should take great care not to grow too wise for so great a pleasure as laughter.

It is the songs you sing and the smiles you wear that make the sunshine everywhere.

McMINNVILLE WINS

Football fans were afforded a rare treat on Turkey day when Newberg and McMinnville, ancient rivals, clashed on the local gridiron for the football honors of the year. McMinnville won the contest by one point, the score being thirteen to twelve.

The game was fast and one of many thrills. All of the scoring was more or less sensational.

In the first quarter Newberg's speedy quarterback, Wayne Nelson, picked up a fumble and ran eighty yards for a touch down. Newberg failed to kick goal. In the third quarter McMinnville scored on an outside kick, Jones falling on the ball on the Newberg goal line. Agee kicked goal. Again in this quarter the fleet-footed Newberg quarterback picked up a fumble and ran half the length of the field for another touchdown. Newberg failed to convert the goal.

In the final period of play Agee picked the ball up on a fake play and raced down the field for thirty yards before he was tackled. This put McMinnville in position to score and soon they had chalked up another touchdown. Agee failed to kick goal. After a few minutes the whistle blew with the ball in midfield.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY WINS FOOTBALL HONORS

Pacific University won the championship of the Independent colleges of the northwest when they finished their season with a victory over the Chemawa Indians Thanksgiving day. They lost but one game and that to the University of Oregon.

They are considering post season games with some of the independent colleges of California.

Pacific is to be congratulated on her team and the success that it has had this year.

IS FIRST PROFESSOR TO OWN AUTOMOBILE AT PACIFIC

It hasn't been the lot of Pacific University professors to glide down College Way in their big limousines and park outside Marsh Hall, while they hold sway in the class rooms within. Theirs has been the "poor but honest" livelihood which we hear about in the biographies of great men. That is the reason that the ghoulish shades of Pacific Professors long since past must have had quite a start last week when Professor O. M. Akey, physicist and geologist, paraded down Main street in his new—not a limousine—but a brand new Chevrolet "490." He has the distinction of being the first Professor in the University to own and operate a private franchise for this sort of carrier. It is said that Elmer Hamilton, ex-P. U. '17 sold the Professor the rolling stock for his new enterprise and the state is about to grant him rights of operation.

Why he should purchase a 5 passenger machine when there is only one of him has cast a bait for the rumor fiends to strike at but at any rate he will probably be popular as a chaperone for picnics.—The Index.

WILLAMETTE STRONG ON DEBATE

Verbal combat is in the air. Debate teams from the sophomore and freshman classes were chosen the past week in preparation for the first round of the interclass debate series on December 7. The seniors will choose their representatives today.

In the sophomore tryout Donald Ryan and Ruth Hill were successful. Ryan is a former Salem high debater, and Miss Hill is experienced in platform work.

The freshmen will be represented by Robert Littler and Percy Hammond, both with debate experience in Salem high. Littler was a member of the state championship team last year.

Roy Skeen and Rodney Alden won places on the junior team.

"Dangerous Dan" McGrew, Edwin Norene, and Ruth Richards will try out for senior honors.

The question, "Resolved, That the United States should take the lead in international disarmament by suspending its present naval program of expansion," is one of current importance, and offers possibilities for lively contests. The seniors and sophomores will uphold the affirmative, and the juniors and freshmen the negative of the question.

The freshmen and sophomores will clash in the chapel, owing to the large size of their classes. At the same time juniors and seniors will hold their contest in Professor Richard's class room. The members of each class will be expected to attend the debate in which their class is participating.—Collegian.

Mr. and Mrs. Schlauch were hosts to a number of students and friends Thanksgiving. Those entertained in the Schlauch home were Prof. and Mrs. Gardner, Josephine Turner, Alice Oliver, Olga Anderson, Allrick and Harris Erickson, and Walter Harcourt.

COOPERATION

Leddies and Gentleman! I suppose you have awl read lectures on the subiek of Coe operation but this aint not going to be enny such thing as a lecture. It will just simplee be a statement of a few fax and statisticks which can be found in the World Almanac along with the price of eggs in St. Joe, how many drops of water is they in a galon of coal oil if the Standard Oil company should go into the business of selling peanuts, and if it takes 400 and thirty-one horse hairs and six mice whiskers to make a wig, how long doze it take a cross-eyed kangaroo with one ear half gone and a white spot under his chin and a fambly of 13, to climb to the North pole? All for three score scents and knickie.

Well folks there aint many worth while things whats happened in this globe of ours whats not done by co-operation. Now look at the arms conference. Japan wants more arms and sez as we and John B. has too many. Well, mebbe you has got too many arms but I'm one American wot aint got any to more as I kneed. The Japs think theyll get more arms by co-operation I guess but I think they wont becos of coop on the part of Uncle Sams men who is goin to have something to say. I dont think its a good idea, to cut out the navies and armies tho becoz then we couldnt read about the exciting times the speculators have watching the navy football team swim away from the army gang.

If we work together with somebody tho we can always accomplish more because 2 heads is better as one even if one is headcheese. When you have something to do let somebody else help you and you will be doing ths act. If you know that something is going to come off and that there is certain things that haz to be done, dont rush off like you was the most important pusson in seven counties but stick around and mebbe make yourself usefull aside from decorating the furniture. In other words co-operate. And you cant co-operate unless you operate. So get busy and do something. I. N. K. SLINGER.

Bellingham Normal is unique among schools of its size, in the amount of its Student Loan Fund. Beginning with a nucleus of $400 donated by the graduating class of 1904, the fund has constantly grown until at present $15,000 is at the disposal of Dr. Nash and a faculty committee to loan to deserving students. The limit any student may draw is $200.—The Weekly Messenger.

MISTAKES AND COME BACKS

When a plumber makes a mistake he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake he has a chance to try the case over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake it is just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it.

When a judge makes a mistake it becomes a law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

But when an editor makes a mistake —GOOD NIGHT!—The Trail.

Using His Head

They had just been married and were about to start on their wedding trip. He was embarrassed to the point of forgetfulness but he met the situation expertly.

"Why, Harry, you've bought only one ticket," reproached the bride.

"Just like me, dear," flashed Harry: "always forgetting myself."

PROFESSORSHIP GIVEN

Whitman college recently received a gift of $75,000 for the purpose of establishing the Weyerhaeuser professorship of Biblical Literature. The seven children of the late Frederick and Sarah Weyerhaeuser united in giving Whitman the professorship which is to be a memorial to their parents.
