A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

THE CHRISTMAS CONSCIOUSNESS

The Christmas season is here again and our minds travel back o'er the departed centuries to the birth of One who was to be the moulder of civilizations, the Maker of destinies, the Given of happiness, the Christ-Child. Two thousand years of time date from His birth and who knows how much of time before. Our minds stretch almost to the breaking point in their attempt to sweep the ages. We measure time by the happening of events, and we measure all time by the happening of the one great event, the birth of the Christ-Child. The Christmas consciousness is a sweeping consciousness.

When Christ was born they brought Him gifts and now the whole world gives. At this holiday season men and women are pulled out of their self-security and through mutual friendship, love, and esteem, they give. It is true, the things they give may be all too small and may perish quickly or in course of time. Yet, the spirit that both prompts and comes from the gifts exchanged, is imperishable. And it is this universal spirit of giving that makes the whole world one, at Christmas time. The Christmas consciousness is a giving consciousness.

When Christ was born the whole earth trembled with joy. The Heavenly hosts sang songs of praise and the news of the Savior's birth made glad the hearts of men. Down through Christian history the joy of Christ's presence has been the sustaining power to accomplish the impossible. And Christ, Himself, though a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief, is pre-eminently characterized by joyous triumph. The joy of Christ is the one powerful undercurrent of the Christian life. And as we near the birthday of the King of Kings we cannot but be reminded of that joy. The Christmas consciousness is a joyous consciousness.

HALSEY CARSTENS.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Christmas! What does it mean? Is it a season when we merely exchange presents and have a little vacation time? Is it a time when we take an inventory of all the hair receivers, and paper knives, and "gift books" we were delighted with last Christmas, juggle them around so that with a reasonable amount of luck, we won't return to Aunt Lou, the volume of Ella Wheeler Wilcox she gave us last year? To the little children Christmas means a visit from old St. Nick with lots of toys and books and goodies. To the fond parents it means joy in serving others and seeing them happy. To the student it means home again, and a week of mother's cooking. But to all of us it means a renewal of our faith in that splendid dream that came to the earth in a manger in Bethlehem, a rededication of ourselves to the code of human kindness.

Merry Christmas! In spite of the fact that Ireland is fighting and Armenia is starving. Merry Christmas! in our quiet homes where there are empty chairs because of those who could not return for the holiday season. Merry Christmas! in our crowded cities, in our villages, on our plantations, and our ranches and fertile farms. Do not hesitate to say it this year. Rather see to it that you say it oftener, with deeper meaning than ever before. For it expresses more than a wish. It should be written in one word—Merrichristmas—for so it persists in our hearts, one of the most significant words in the English tongue.

VINA FINLEY.

REMEMBER THE COLLEGE

When you are wishing all of your friends a Merry Christmas and you are telling them the many things you have to say, don't forget to let your words and actions reflect creditably upon the college. Whenever you have a chance put in a good word for Old Mac. If by your influence you bring a student there, you will have spent a profitable vacation.

You can tell false teeth from natural ones because they are nearer perfection than real ones.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS BEGIN THURSDAY DECEMBER 22

Many Students to Spend Vacation at Home; Club has Christmas Party Tonight

Christmas vacation begins Friday, December 22, at four o'clock and ends January 3, at seven forty-five. The vacation this year is shorter than usual but this fact makes it possible for students going home to take advantage of Christmas rates offered by the railroads. These rates do not begin until December 22 and the return is good up to January fourth, so that the vacation time just comes within the limits of time given for railroad rates.

The vacation being so short many of the students who ordinarily go home for Christmas will stay here this year. Many parties and jollifications are being planned by those and for those who remain here during the recess.

A number of the students will go to their homes as far as eastern Washington, eastern Oregon and a very few will even try to go to southern Idaho for the holidays.

The bad weather has been causing much trouble for the railroads and it is hoped that the roads will be in good condition by the end of the week so that those who have a long way to go will experience no difficulty in reaching home in time for Christmas.

Tonight at the club at supper time a Christmas party will be given.

Extensive plans are being made, a Christmas tree has been provided, small presents will be given and a program will be given by the members of the club. Each table being responsible for one number and an encore.

This is the third year for this kind of Christmas party at the club and so far they have all been social triumphs but if anything can be predicted from the plans that are laid this one will foreshadow the others.

Students will be leaving for their homes from Thursday noon on, many students have the afternoon off so will be able to get away on the twelve-forty-four. Arrangements have been made so that three o'clock classes can be held some other time, thus giving all those who are going home a chance to leave town on the three twenty-eight.

JUNIOR INTERCLASS DEBATE WINNERS

The finals of the annual inter-class debate series were finished last Tuesday evening, December 13th, when the representatives of the Junior class met the Frosh debaters. The question debated was, "Resolved, That the United States should grant independence to the Philippines at this time." Sylvester Cross and Oscar Gladish upholding the negative won from the Freshmen contestants, Harris Erickson and Alfred Hillier. This debate is the last of a series of three, the Juniors having previously won from the Seniors and the Frosh having defeated the Sophs. The victory gives the Junior class the privilege of engraving its numerals for this year on the silver loving cup offered as a trophy by the Forensic club.

The debate centered mainly around the question of the capability of the the Filipinos for self government. A massing of negative evidence on this point combined with oratorical ability won for the Juniors. In opening the affirmative case, Harris Erickson showed by numerous quotations from public men, principally Filipinos, the existence of a strong demand on the part of the natives for independence. He dwelt upon the moral obligation of the United States to fulfill the promise made at the time of annexation of the islands. Sylvester Cross opening for the negative advanced that the desire for independence was greatly over-estimated. That the present unfavorable condition of world finance and finally the adverse report of the Forbes-Wood commission were sufficient evidence to defeat the affirmative opposition. Alfred Hillier argued that the Filipinos have carried on the major portion of their own government for some time past and that therefore they were capable of maintaining an absolutely independent government. Oscar Gladish pointed out inefficiencies in the administration due to native officials, chief among them being the fact that the islands are almost bankrupt at present.

Professors Frerichs and Gardiner and Mr. Kopf acted as judges. A loyal appreciative audience attended the debate.

BOYS' CHORUS PLEASURES CROWD

The Whitney Boys' chorus appeared before an audience of seven or eight hundred people in the college gymnasium Friday night and gave an entertainment that pleased every body.

The chorus was composed of over two hundred boys, fifty from Portland and the rest from McMinnville, Newberg and the nearby towns.

The whole chorus sang several numbers during the entire program. Most of the individual work, solos, dancing and reading was done by the members of the Portland chorus.

The selections ranged from the classic to the popular, from the old folk songs to the very latest. All together it was a well balanced program with a chance here for serious thought and again king laughter reigned supreme.

The solos and duets rendered by these boy singers were classed by many as but little short of marvelous. One of the choruses danced the Highland fling and long and loud was the applause for this youngster as he left the stage after being encored.

The members who gave readings were very good for so young performers and delighted the audience with humorous pieces.

At different times members of the chorus directed the singing while Rev. Whitney had nothing to do but sit by and watch. The way the youthful leaders got response from the chorus was a credit to any leader, old or young.

The Portland boys were entertained in the homes of McMinnville people Friday night. They met at the Presbyterian church for chapel at nine-thirty Saturday morning. After their services they were given a free picture show at the Rainbow theatre.

This is the first tie that any public function of this nature has been held at the gymnasium. The new building proved by this initial tryout that it was well adapted for this kind of entertainments. The seating capacity is the biggest of any one in town at the present time and is much better heated and ventilated. The acoustic properties of this auditorium are very good too.

CHRISTMAS GREETING

Every year I receive scores of Christmas Greetings, couched in beautiful language, which come from friends who are scattered all over the world. It is a remarkably touching and helpful custom. I have wished many times that I could thus remember all those who are in various capacities related to my life. The effort to create such a list for remembrance has always ended in despair as well as in gratitude. This year the Editor of The Review has solved my problem by giving me the great privilege of extending my greetings through this medium. To every member of the Faculty, to every member of the student body, and to every graduate and former graduate, I gladly extend my heartiest wishes for a Merry Christmas and the best of all New Years. May God bless you all and make you a blessing.

LEONARD W. RILEY.

As the Holiday season draws nigh, the thoughts of students turn toward homes, and the dear ones there. Many of us can return to those homes; some cannot, but all may enjoy the blessings and happiness which comes from the One in whose name we observe Christmas. May each member of the student body and faculty enjoy a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and may the new year bring a successful and progressive year for the Student Body.

MARK RICH.

WARDE DELIVERS GOOD LECTURE

Taking "Fifty Years of Make Believe" as his theme, Frederick Warde, distinguished author, actor and lecturer, brought Lyceum goes one of the rare treats of the season along this line.

Mr. Warde was highly advertised and, this being the case, he was speaking to an audience expecting something great and they got it. He pleased the whole audience with his lecture which was filled with funny incidents from start to finish, yet carrying a deeper strain underneath.

He took the audience into the world of mimicry, the world of make believe and revealed the American stage and actors to them in a very fascinating and realistic manner.

He told of many funny incidents that happened at different times to actors whose names are famous on the English speaking stage.

All of the stories he told happened when he was in the company with these other actors in various plays.

For a time he had his own company but when the public no longer wanted the old classic plays he left the stage. All of the acting he does now is in the Los Angeles Mission play at San Gabriel—the American Oberammergau—in which he plays the leading part and his masterly interpretation in this play has created comment thruout the entire west.

In closing he gave an appeal for the support of high class plays so that they might again take their place on the English speaking stage and that the unmoral plays of the present day would find no place on the stage.

DR. RILEY IN CHAPEL

Dr. B. O. Riley brought us a short but very helpful message at the chapel hour last Friday.

His appeal was for the Christian man and woman. He said that what the world wanted was more man in the man and woman in the woman. This can be brought about only by Christian education.

OREGON AGGIES WIN GAME FROM COLLEGE LAST NIGHT

College Team Plays Good Game; Hjelte Starred for O.A.C.; Kratt Played Good Ball for Mac

The Oregon Agricultural college basketball team defeated the college team 38-15 in the game on the gym floor last night.

The Aggies took the lead early in the game and run up a score of twenty while McMinnville counted but two on fouls. The basket shooting of Hyete and of Stinson was responsible for O. A. C.'s points during the first half. The tall aggie center was getting them from all angles. He shot five field baskets during the first period.

The second half the Mac boys came back and piled up thirteen points while the Corvallis team secured eighteen.

The Mac team seemed to find themselves after Kratt shot a long basket from the center of the floor. Miller, who was substituted for Ben Larson, caged one and then Hikok dropped in three in a row.

Considering the advantage the O. A. C. boys had over the local team, the game was considered good from the spectators view point. The Mac team altho outclassed in the art of basket shooting, were not out-fought and the last minute without even a chance of victory found them fighting just as hard as the first minute. All of the boys were in the game from start to finish.

Ed Kratt played the stellar role for the college team, being high man with seven points and holding his forward down so that he didn't get any baskets. Ed shot five out of seven fouls.

Captain Coe played a good defensive game, backing up play after play.

"Wamp" Hoberg held Captain Stinson of the Aggies to three field baskets which itself speaks volumes. Roscoe Larson was sent in to take Hoberg's place the last ten minutes. He played a good game but was not going as good as he was last year.

Hjelte at center, Stinson, forward, and Ross, guard, were the out-standing players of the visiting team.

The game was refereed by Rein Jackson.

The line-up was:

O. A. C.—Stinson 8 F.; Gill, F.; Hjelte 22, C.; Richards, G.; Ross 6, G. McMinnville—B. Larson, F.; Hikok 6, F.; Coe, Capt., C.; Kratt 7, G.; Hoberg, G.

Substitutions—McMinnville, Miller 2 for Ben Larson; R. Larson for Hoberg. O. A. C.—Finley for Gill, L. Gill for Richards. In the last two minutes three other substitutes were sent in.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE GAME

The organized rooting sections last night produced the best yelling that Old Mac has had for a long time. To Yell King Campbell and his assistants goes the credit for the good work done in the "pep" section.

It is this kind of fight that wins the games.

ORDER OLD OAK

The members of the Order of Old Oak were right on the job last night. They proved their ability to handle a crowd without confusion and to get the people seated in the least possible time. Keep it going fellows it is good work.

BOYS PLAY IN GIRLS TOGS

Between halves a dozen boys dressed in girls gym suits played a feature game of the evening.

The game started in quiet manner and was played according to girls' rules, but soon it changed to a game played by boys' rules and before long it was a combination of basketball and football.

It was a good stunt and kept the crowd in an uproar.

Howard Gildea said, "Boys, you played them a good game."

Rein Jackson said, "They know where they got their points. They played for them."

The first game after vacation will be with Monmouth here January 6. Captain Coe has the team working every minute that they are on the floor.

KRATT HITS THEM

Eddie Kratt still has his eye on the fouls. Ed played a good game at guard.

PROSPECTS GOOD

With a little more practice and the team going like they were last night, chances for the conference title looks good.

LEGION PLAYS OREGON

Basket ball fans will have a rare treat Friday when the University of Oregon plays the American Legion team in the college gym.

The Legion boys have several last year college stars in their lineup. Oregon will have to play pretty good basketball if they leave town with the long end of the score.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial association met last Tuesday evening in Prof. Shumaker's lecture room. The fifteen who were present had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Pedro Cachopero present his message in a most thought stimulating and unique way. His topic was "The Wind of Power." The criticisms which followed were most helpful, both to the speaker and to the listeners. In these criticisms, which are a part of each meeting, the good points and the bad points of the speaker's talk are brought out. The association is especially fortunate in having Prof. Shumaker as a critic, owing to his rich experience in this line of activity.

WHITMAN GLEE CLUB TO MAKE EXTENSIVE TOUR

Whitman College, Dec. 15. (P. I. P. S.)—The Whitman college men's varsity Glee club will make a tour of the northwest next spring.

More than 20 towns and cities of Washington, Oregon and Idaho will be visited. Concerts will be given at both the Washington and Idaho state penitentiaries. Twenty-four members will compose the club. This will be the longest tour ever undertaken by the club.

"God gives us always strength enough and sense enough for what He wants us to do; if we either tire ourselves or puzzle ourselves, it is our own fault. And we may always be sure, whatever we are doing, that we cannot be pleasing Him, if we are not happy ourselves."—Ruskin.

MERRY XMAS TO YOU

When Xmas comes and the spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good will toward men," prevails we look about to see what we can do to make someone else happy. Those who are very near and dear to us we give gifts to show them our love and to wish them a Merry Xmas.

To all our friends we wish a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year either by spoken or written word.

So it is with us now, The Review has many friends; the students, the faculty, the administration, the business men, the subscribers and the alumni we wish you all a Merry Merry Christmas and we hope in the New Year that you may prosper in your school work, your business or your profession.

MANY SPLENDID CHAPEL TALKS

We have been very fortunate indeed to have many excellent chapel talks in the past two weeks. We are very glad to have these outside speakers with us and we are sure that the splendid message they bring us are giving us broader views of life than we could otherwise get.

WORTHY OF ITS NAME

The Order of The Old Oak, a newly founded but very important organization that has come to our campus to stay, is something that we have long needed and now that we have it let us cherish and protect it.

No other organization in school will or can do so much to keep up the morale of the student body. It will keep the students ever endeavoring to exert an influence on the right side and to give everything serious thought and consideration. It will promote the spirit of friendly rivalry between schools and will ever hold before the students and players the high ideals of sportsmanship and will demand and get these very precious things by educating the students to demand these things and to take nothing less than the best each man and woman has to give.

RADICALISM VS. LIBERALISM IN THE COLLEGES

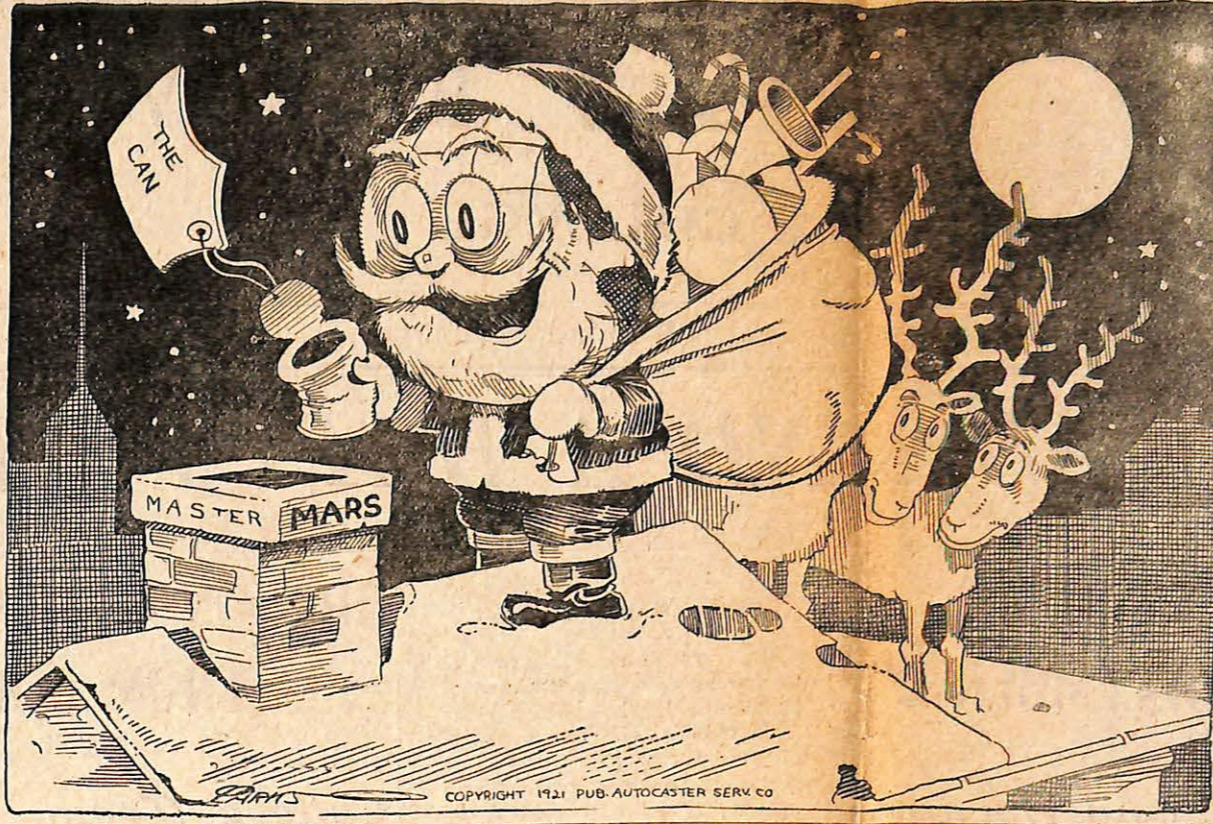

The National Security League has begun an organized effort to "counteract the poison" of socialistic propaganda which is "striking at the foundation of Americanism" by attempting to implant "Utopian theories in the immature minds of the young men and young women in the colleges and universities of America." The Freeman declares that "if there is one single phase of the active and thoughtless life of the American collegian that tends naturally to the production of spiritual unrest, it has thus far escaped our notice." The Harvard Alumni Bulletin responds: "The average American college or university man is not likely to be a revolutionary because he comes from somewhere and belongs somewhere; because he is on the whole fortunate and hopeful; and because his information and discipline are comparatively well balanced. On the other hand, he cannot be wholly complacent, for the decisive reason that he hasn't been cooking long enough to be hard boiled."

Not radicalism but suppression of free speech is the greater danger facing the colleges today, says Dr. S. P.

Duggan (Vassar Quarterly, August, 1921). "The exponents of radicalism in college circles are comparatively few in number, and they are vocal and well known. Until recently this has not been true of the partisan upholders of the established order of things, who have worked more quietly but quite as effectively. As a result of the war hysteria the extreme reactionary has also become very vocal and visible and would muzzle not propaganda but honest discussion. Let a college be known today as a place where free discussion is frowned upon, and it will be shunned by the youth of alert mind upon whom we base our hope of leadership."

A Lazy Thousand Dollar Brain

"The announcement that a prize of $1,000 will be given for the best essay on "The Relations of Capital and Labor" is the latest addition to a long list of prizes offered for original writing.

Each year there are many such prizes go begging, simply because there are no students who have ambition enough to compete for them. It has ceased to be a personal matter. The apparent lack of interest is reflecting unfavorably upon the intellectual good name of the colleges.

Outsiders, when they offer prizes which are not competed for, cannot fail to believe that after all college students are nothing but tea-hounds and rah rah boys.

If the money holds no appeal, then loyalty to alma mater should induce more interest in these prizes offered by well-meaning outsiders. The sad truth is that laziness rather than lack of brains is principally responsible for this dearth of worthy original work.—U. of W. Daily.

Service

"Nature's taking down her leaves, And putting by her flowers and birds; She's in the pasture and the byres Stacking fodder for her herds. She has the fairness of thought, The heart of care, the living will To serve because she has been taught, That service is the cure for ill."—U. of R. Campus.

President Warren G. Harding says, "I have always believed in the inspiration of the Holy scriptures whereby they have become the expression to man of the word and will of God."

"I thoroly believe in a university education for both men and women; but I believe a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible. Everyone who has a thoroly knowledge of the Bible may be truly called educated; and no other learning or culture, no matter how extensive or elegant, can form a proper substitute." William Lyon Phelps, A. M., Ph. D., Professor of English at Yale.

A COLLEGE WHICH EDUCATES FOR MOTHERHOOD

Vassar college does not send out women to become great lawyers, doctors, scientists, business administrators, or money makers, according to Dr. Lyman Abbott. It has been doing something much better than that. It has been educating women to be great mothers. We can estimate in dollars and cents the worth of a lawyer or a financier, but it is impossible to estimate the worth of a mother.

To promote correct speech, Smith college examines every entering freshman in oral English. Any student who does not come up to the standard in pronunciation, etc., must take a course in the department of spoken English.

Social Activities

Edited by ALICE OLIVER

I. O. M. BANQUET

One of the most charming events of the year occurred on Friday evening, Dec. 16, at the annual banquet of the Iota Omega Mu fraternity at the Hotel Elberton.

Promptly at six P. M. the guests gathered in the hotel and marched down to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in the fraternity colors and emblems, and Christmas greens. Gracefully arranged streamers of the fraternity colors formed a unique canopy over the table while at the head stood a large facsimile of the fraternity pin.

The table with its snowy cloth was lovely in the soft light of the shaded table lamps. Large bowls of yellow chrysanthemums adorned the table. Place cards of purple and white in the shape of the I. O. M. pin marked each place. The gay music of the victrola throughout the evening added to the festivity. When all were seated a great deal of merriment was furnished by the little Christmas gift found at each plate.

A five course banquet was then served which certainly more than came up to the expectations and left all feeling as if food was from then on entirely unnecessary forever more.

While still lingering over mints and coffee the toastmaster, George Paul, presided in his own inimitable way. Professor Payne toasted to the History of the fraternity giving us an insight into their ancient, medieval and modern records. Milton Coe's toast to Brothers was inspiring and indicative of the strong brotherhood and comradeship which bind the Iota Omega Mu together. William Maxwell cordially welcomed the guests and Ola Davis responded.

As seats had been reserved at the concert of the Whitney Boys' chorus the banqueters proceeded in a body to the college gymnasium, declaring the Iota Omega Mu to be royal entertainers indeed.

DELTA PSI DELTA HOLDS SEVENTH ANNUAL BANQUET

The Delta Psi Delta fraternity held its seventeenth annual banquet in honor of its lady friends on Saturday evening, December seventeenth, in the Elberton hotel banquet room.

While Sylvester Cross played the Delta Psi Delta march, midst a Delta shaped bower of green and white streamers, the members of the fraternity and their guests found their way to a large delta shaped table artistically decorated in the fraternity colors. Here and there on the tables were dainty floral bouquets of pale pink carnations, and before each couple there was a large green candle adorned with a novel delta shaped shade. In the center between the tables, stood majestic the fraternity emblem, the skull, which was placed on a tall pyramid.

A bounteous five-course banquet was served in true Delta Psi Delta style. The delta shape was carried out in the different courses.

While all were pondering over their "cafe noir" cups, Professor Northup as toastmaster, introduced the program of the evening. Professor Northup expressed his delight in having the privilege of attending many of the fraternity banquets, and extended an appreciation and welcome to the guests of the evening.

She then introduced Mr. Henry Weiss who toasted on the subject "Shoulder to Shoulder." The spirit of brotherhood was emphasized and brought before the guests in an impressive manner. Mr. Weiss brought out the point that as long as the individual members of Delta Psi Delta cooperated in attaining the ideals of the fraternity, so long would they walk "shoulder to shoulder" in the eyes of those attending McMinnville college.

Professor Northup, after relating a humorous little sketch pertaining to the person next on the program, introduced Mr. Hugh Whirry who favored the guests with a piano solo, "Fourth Barcarolle." Mr. Whirry's touch on this instrument is to be highly commended.

The toastmaster of the evening introduced the subject of the next toast by impressing upon the minds of all, the value of friendship of noble womanhood. He told of the inspiration he had received from that wonderful character, Miss Isabel Grover who did a great work in McMinnville college for many years until she was called to greater work for her Master.

Mr. Mark Rich toasted to "Man's Golden Dream." In beautiful tokens and fitting words, Mr. Rich toasted to the guests of the evening, who, he said, are the inspiration and help of the men of Delta Psi Delta. Upon these words, the fraternity was requested to rise and to drink to the health of the womanhood of McMinnville college.

Miss Delia Ingram responded on the subject "Lingering Memories." She brought out the value of college friendships, and expressed the wish of all the girls to live up to the confidence and hope placed in them by the Delta Psi Delta fraternity. The girls of McMinnville college will always retain the memories of their college friendships with the strong and noble men of their college days.

Mr. Oscar Gladish, accompanied by Mr. Sylvester Cross, pleased the guests with a vocal solo "A Little Bit of Heaven."

Professor Northup then attributed honor to the alumni of Delta Psi Delta, and introduced Mr. Raymond Bueermann who toasted on the subject "With Flying Colors." He emphasized the benefit of fraternity life and college friendships to the alumni. Now is the time when they are putting into practice the things learned in college circles and are receiving benefit from them.

The fraternity then rose and sang the fraternity song which concluded the program of the evening. The guests went away declaring the banquet a success, and the evening one in which the hours had "all too swiftly sped."

Guests of the fraternity were Mrs. Eugene Gardiner, the Misses Esther Telcher, Alice Oliver, Gray Light, Delia Ingram, Janet Riley, Frances Moore, Minnie Larson, Osa Northup, Olga Anderson, Lillian Bueermann, Myrtle Ballard, and Edith Clark.

Hikers

Among those who took advantage of the crisp winter air and the beautiful sunshiny days during the last week were: Eva Cummins, Allan Arnold, Clara Wooden, Russell Elliot.

Another hiking party consisted of Alice Schmidt, Alma Carstens, Bertha Jonasson, and Agneta Hunderup. Still others were Minnie Larson, Zelta Peard, Esther Telcher, Ursus Brock, Harold Bliss, Weston Henry, Esther Wright, Alice Oliver, Vance Bingham, and Bern Wright.

Lambda Lambda Sigma

The Misses Bernice Varney and Ola Davis were hostesses to the Lambda girls at a Christmas party on Saturday evening. After roll call, presents were distributed. The girls all went back to their childhood days long enough to enjoy toys and goodies. The adjournment was easily made, as a theatre party followed.

Kappa Alpha Phi

Kappa Alpha Phi held a short business meeting followed by a social hour at the home of Eula Bones Saturday evening. As the Christmas season is approaching, a large Christmas tree was beautifully decorated by the hostess. Gifts for all the girls were drawn from the tree, and many of the packages produced many a laugh. Hot chocolate and cookies were enjoyed on the wintry evening before the sorority adjourned.

Word has been received here that Chas. Davis, one of last year's debaters who is attending Rochester Theological seminary, has been chosen to represent Rochester against Oberlein University of Ohio. Davis was one of the bulwarks of strength in the local teams last year.

STUDENTS WIN PRIZES

The prizes that were given away by the merchants Saturday night as a climax to their special inducements offered to the people so that they might do their Xmas shopping early, created a great deal of interest among the students.

Only a very few college people won these coveted prizes, Eva Cummins won a very fine Indian blanket at Miller Mercantile's, Grace Edmunds won a photograph album at Jamison's, but Prof. G. R. Schlauch took the cake at the Atlas Bakery.

I. O. M.

Iota Omega Mu fraternity is glad to announce Ruel Marsh as pledge member.

Zeta Chi

Last Saturday evening the Zeta Chis met at Mrs. Haynes' and later held a social hour at the home of Louise Skinner. The approach of Christmas was quite evident in the industry shown by the girls, and almost before they knew it the hostess brought forth delicious refreshments as a reward for their labors.

NEXT ISSUE JANUARY 11

The next issue of the Review will not appear until January 11. This will give the Review staff a two weeks vacation.

ALPHA GAMMA NU

The Alpha Gamma Nu fraternity met with Worth Wright at the Jewel home last Saturday night. The pledge members came in later in the evening for the social part.

NO MORE REGISTRATIONS FOR SIX YEARS

Registration books at Vassar college are closed until the fall of 1927. The number of students who may attend Vassar at one time is limited to 1,000, so that the college can accept only about 300 new students each year. If accepted students withdraw or fail to meet the entrance requirements, their places are given to applicants of especially high rank in their secondary-school work, these students being chosen from a list of 100, not in order of application but of scholarship. There is no waiting list except the list of candidates for the honor group.

Dr. Frederick Lynch, editor of "The Christian Work" and one of the leading Christian statesmen of our days, says in a recent editorial: "The men of my own class in college who are today leading the thought of the world in pulpit, university and press and books, are the boys who buried themselves in the dusty corners of the old Linonia library, and not only had nothing to do with athletics, but escaped the prevailing and pervading atmosphere. The majority of these men are big business men or corporation lawyers."

Exam question: "What do you think of this course?"

Student's answer: "I think it is a well rounded out course, what we don't get in class we get in examination.—Octopus.

"What do you think of girls' basketball, Morris," asked George. "Blossoming good game," says the coach.

RULING BETTERS GRADES

Only half as many freshmen are to be suspended from the University of Minnesota this year for delinquency in scholastic standing, as were failed last year. The new rules held responsible for the improvement provide that no student may participate in activities who has an improved failure in any course. Failure may be removed either by repeating the course with a passing grade or by completing a full quarter's work, of at least 13 hours without condition.

STUDENT PETITION RESULTS IN LONGER VACATION TIME

Whitman College, Dec. 12.—(P. I. N. S.)—Five days have been added to the Christmas holidays at Whitman as a result of a student petition presented the college faculty this week. The request was made that the fall term, instead of closing on December 21, close December 16, thus giving students an opportunity to work during the holiday rush, previous to Christmas.

POSTMASTER GENERAL IS AWOVED ENTHUSIAST FOR NATIONAL FRATERNITIES

Will H. Hayes, postmaster general and president of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, in an address before the Interfraternity conference held recently in New York City, said that fraternities were a vital factor in the solution of college problems and that they exerted a powerful influence over men at the time they were molding their characters. Mr. Hayes attributed a great deal of his success in life to the fact that he is an "enthusiastic fraternity man," and added that his character was largely formed by the problems brought before him while he was living in his fraternity house at Wash College.—Collegian.

HORSESHOE CHAMPIONS

University of California, Berkeley.—Determined to gain recognition, ardent supporters of the old rural sport, are taking up means to complete the finest and best equipped horse-shoe pitching turf that ever graced a back barn lot.

The forestry club, under whose direction the new collegiate sport is being forwarded, claims to already possess a number of sure "ringers" and predicts that within a few years they will have the national title clinched.

STUDENTS EDIT PAPER

"The O. A. C. Industrial edition" of the Albany Herald was issued by O. A. C. students in industrial journalism. The news staff of the Herald was discharged for the day and the material which went into the paper was written, edited and proof-read by the student journalists. Timely industrial news of particular interest in Albany and Linn county was gathered.

TWENTY-THREE PER CENT COMPLETE COURSE

The class which graduated from the Denver high schools last June numbered 4,335 when it entered the first grade in 1909. Of this number 3,359 finished the eighth grade; 2,081 went on to high school, and 997 graduated.—Denver School Review.

GRATITUDE IN STRANGE GARB

Bishop Lamberts in his interesting book, 'Medical Missions,' tells of a native of India whose wife went to a hospital for treatment. On her return he wrote as follows to a woman physician in charge of the hospital:

"Dear She: My wife has returned from your hospital cured. Provided wales are allowed in your bungalow, I would like to do you the honor of presenting myself there this afternoon. But I will not try to repay you; Vengeance belongeth to God."

Another, whose wife did not survive, expressed himself thus:

"Dear and Fair Madam: I have much pleasure to inform you that my dearly unfortunate wife will be no longer under your kind treatment, she having left this world for the other on the night of the 27th ultimo. For your help in this matter I shall ever remain grateful. Yours reverently,"—Missionary Voice.

BEN SCOVELL GIVES CHAPEL TALK MONDAY

Ben Scovell, a noted actor and lecturer, lead chapel Monday. He told of his early childhood, of his parents, of a drunken step-father who drove him from his home when he was but a boy in England.

Coming to America he worked his way thru the college of Colorado for years, starting with twenty-three cents and later worked his way thru Harvard. He prevailed upon the students to keep on with their studies and that it was possible to become a college graduate in spite of almost insurmountable difficulties.

When war broke out he was a professor at Whittier college in California, and he answered the call of his country by going to Canada to enlist, but he was rejected so he went over seas as an entertainer.

He told of the pathetic and also of the humorous side of the work over seas.

HOME BURNS

Llewellyn Sanderman received word last night that the Sanderman home had burned to the ground. The fire started in the attic, it is thought that a defective flue was the cause. Part of the furniture downstairs was saved.

THE SNOW

The snow that fell Saturday night reminded those who were here two years ago of the hard winter, when the pipes froze, and the snow was much deeper than it is now and the thermometer was registering far below zero.

This time the snow is but a few inches; then it was over a foot deep. The coating was good then and it is pretty good now, a little more snow would make Hartman's hill the mecca for the coasters.

Joint Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

Another joint meeting of the Christian association was held on last Wednesday, at which time Reverend Wiens, a returned missionary from China, spoke. Some of the experiences which he related to us, concerning his work with the Chinese and particularly with the worshippers of the "Open Space," were highly interesting and filled with the earnestness of one who has learned to love them by years spent in their midst.

The Associations always welcome outside speakers for their devotional meetings, for thru them a great work can be accomplished.

Henry to Manage Lyceum

Weston Henry was elected yesterday for Lyceum manager for the next year. He won the election over Llewellyn Sanderman by one vote.

SCRIM LEGION TUESDAY DEC. 12 PLAY MONMOUTH HERE JAN. 6

A week ago last Tuesday the basketball team played a scrimmage game with the legion at five-thirty. The hour was rather late but a good crowd was present and altho the club bell rang for supper it did not seem to worry them. The legion played fast ball and our boys could not seem to get their number as basket after basket fell thru and the score rolled up. The darkest hour is always just before dawn tho and so look out O. A. C. we'll have your number before this goes to press.

No delay will be tolerated at all and so the first game after the holidays will be played here with the Monmouth Normal school team on January sixth. This should be a good game as Monmouth has showed up well in the games she has played so far this year. We want to start the new year off right and as there will not be another edition before the sixth we take this opportunity to remind you of the fact that we start right out after we come back from our feast and presents. The return game with Monmouth will be played at Monmouth on the twenty-first of January but that's a long way off. Remember the Sixth.

"Will to Endure Results From Training," Said Mr. Coolidge

We have seen many periods which tried the soul of our Republic. We shall see many more. There will be times when efforts will be great and profits will vanish. There have been and will be times when the people will be called upon to make great sacrifices for their country. Unless Americans shall continue to live in something more than the present, to be moved by something more than material gains, they will not be able to respond to these requirements and they will go down as other peoples have gone down before some nation possessed of a greater moral force. The will to endure is not the creation of a moment; it is the result of long training. That will has been our possession up to the present hour. By its exercise we have prospered and brought forth many wonderful works. The object of our education is to continue us in this great power. That power depends on our ideals.

IF ONLY WE UNDERSTOOD

Author Unknown
Could we but draw back the curtain
That surrounds each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we should find it clearer,
Purer than we judge we should--
We would love each other better
If we only understood.

If we knew the cares and trials;
Knew the effort all in vain;
All the bitter disappointment;
Understood the loss and pain;
Would the grim, external roughness
Seem, I wonder, just the same?
Would we help where now we hinder?
Would we pity where we blame?

Let us all help one another,
And a heart of kindness show,
As down time's flowing river
In the boat of life we row;
For though rough may be the weather,
And the sky be overcast,
If we only pull together,
We can brave the storm at last.

WORK AND SUCCESS

Daniel Webster said: "Work is the panacea for every heartache, every ill, every discouragement. Through it success comes. Henry Ward Beecher added: "Work or starve is nature's motto, and it is written on stars and sod alike—starve mentally, starve morally, starve physically. It is an inexorable law of nature that whatever is not used, dies. 'Nothing for nothing' is her maxim. If we are idle, and shiftless by choice, we shall be powerless by necessity."

Sir Walter Scott believed in work. He wrote the "Waverly Novels" at the rate of 12 volumes a year. He averaged a volume every two months during his working life.

Delta Psi Delta

Delta Psi Delta fraternity met in weekly session last Friday evening at the Imperial Palace. The meeting was largely devoted to business, after the disposal of which the hand of welcome was extended to Pledge Member Alfred Hillier. The inspiration and helpfulness of brotherhood is playing a large part in the life of the fraternity this year, as in years past.

CONQUEST CLASS

We were glad to have former members with us Sunday: Gray Light, "Nofty" Noffsinger and Ray Bueerman. After hearing from them, our president wished everyone a happy New Year, leaving with us the same message she brought at the first of the year, the thought conveyed by Phil. 4-6:7. Mr. Dirksen sang a Christmas solo.

Then Professor Gardiner brought the Christmas lesson, reading Lew Wallace's account of the visit of the wise men as found in "Ben Hur." The Christ child came to earth to save man from sin, and he still seeks to save man from that curse. As of old the wise men worshiped the child, without doubt, so we should worship Him today. At this time when we are thinking of gifts we should not forget the Master. What gift shall we bring to Him? He deserves the best. He gave Himself for us. Shall we not rededicate our lives to Him who died for us?

COLLEGE PROVINCIALISM

Speaking of provincialism in the American colleges, President Angell of Yale University says: "It is interesting (to note how little college people know about) what is going on outside their own sphere of activity. It is certainly necessary that we should take a reasonably intelligent outlook as to those things which are being done, such things as the preceptorial system at Princeton, and that we should see how they are working out. It is a matter of concern to us to know how our friends at Amherst are succeeding in their attempt to revive interest in the classical studies. It is a matter of concern how Harvard is succeeding in its endeavor to introduce a type of general examination. It is a matter of interest that you should know how in the Middle West the great institutions are endeavoring to work out some combination of the professional with the classical education. Those are all things that any man who is interested in higher education should have some knowledge of and some interest in. There is a considerable opportunity for improving the relations among American institutions of higher learning by some more self-conscious examination of the educational movement as it goes on in centers other than our own."
