$36,000 IS OFFERED IN SCHOLARSHIPS NEXT YEAR

Approximately $36,000 is being offered as graduate scholarships and teaching fellowships during the academic year 1922-1923.

This amount is divided into appointments for the following departments of the University: Bacteriology, botany, civil engineering, business administration, English, chemistry, forestry, history, home economics, education, mathematics, mining, pharmacy, philosophy, political science, psychology, romance languages, sociology and zoology. In addition, three Loretta Denny fellowships are open to graduate students in any department.

Students who hold fellowships involving no service to the University pay the regular tuition fee of $15 for residents in the state and in Alaska and $50 per quarter for residents elsewhere.

Teaching fellows and graduate scholars are not held for the regular tuition but pay a nominal fee of $1 for each credit hour on their election blank. Incidental fees are required from all who received graduate instruction.

Applications for graduate scholarships or fellowships should be in not later than March 15. All communications must be addressed to the head of the department concerned or to Dr. F. M. Padelford, dean of the graduate school.—U. of W.

SPANKING PROMISED OFFENDING STUDENTS

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Mat Witkower, justice of the peace, and sage of Evanston, who decrees what Northwestern university boys and co-eds may not do—and what will happen to them if they do—today handed down a new decalogue whose misdemeanors are punishable with spanking.

The rules, designed to apply to all classes of university students, high school pupils and just kids, are to be enforced, in the case of masculine offenders, by Policeman Exman and in the case of girls by Policewoman Jewell. The minimum spank sentence is five and the maximum 25.

Here are the rules:

- Don't wear "sloppy" (i. e., unbuckled) galoshes.
- Don't swear in public, unless 21 or over.
- Don't use cigarettes, unless 21 or over.
- Don't spoon in an automobile where the public can see.
- Don't get dormitory decorations by stealing "souvenirs."
- Don't take some one else's automobile for a joy-ride.
- Don't "fly-ride" (ride on running board, radiator or tire carrier) on automobiles.
- Don't hook sleds on automobiles.
- Don't roller skate in the downtown district.
- Don't be a rowdy in an ice cream parlor.
- Parents who desire will be permitted to do their own spanking.

STUDENT FRIENDSHIP FUND

Below are some of the facts concerning The Student Friendship fund as published in Association Men. It gives a little light on what other schools are doing along this line:

Students of twenty-six different countries are contributing to the Student Friendship fund.

Students of eleven different countries are receiving aid—70,000 are being helped regularly—200,000 additional directly influenced. Twenty-five years from now many of these same students will be ruling thirty-two different countries of the world. Today the Friendship fund is binding their hearts together. Tomorrow it will bind their governments together.

The Friendship fund, therefore, is the price of peace—the acid test of our willingness to make war forever impossible.

Following are a few reports of gifts, selected at random from many others:

At Connecticut college for women 378 women pledged $1,400, in spite of the fact that they are in the midst of a strenuous endowment campaign.

Abbott Academy, (Mass.) has given the largest per capita gift—an average gift of $9 from each giver.

Following an address by the Rev. Richard Hogue, Kansas City university, with an enrollment of less than 150, gave $500.

Princeton has raised its goal from $6,000 to $11,000. On the second day of the campaign $6,500 had been given and the committee in charge wires that there is a fine prospect of surpassing the goal. President Hibben in opening the campaign asked each Princeton man to think of the one week in the year when he planned to be most generous with himself and then to give an equally generous sum toward his fellow-students in the sorely stricken countries of Middle Europe.

Five members of the fund committee at the Philadelphia college of osteopathy (where there is no association) pledged $21 to start the campaign.

Six students at Juniata pledged $50 in starting the campaign.

A committee of sixteen students at Geneva college pledged $80 before they began to solicit the student body.

Yale men are planning to present the fund in New Haven before as many young people's societies, high schools, private schools, commercial schools, etc., as possible. A committee representing Barnard college, New York university and other colleges, are planning a similar effort in New York City.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, recently returned from a trip covering fifteen European countries, said in an address before the League of women voters in New York: "The middle class of Europe has been the student class, and now that class is so poor that the sons are going into the working class. The class which has carried on the technical work is being depleted and it is extremely important that there should be such a class. Professors are literally starving to death. It takes an entire month's salary to buy one book."

Dr. D. J. Kose, national secretary of the Student Renaissance movement in Czechoslovakia, is spending six months in this country. During the next few weeks he will be giving time to helping in the relief campaigns. He will also have opportunity to study the Student association work at several typical centers. We hope that many association members will come to know him and the interesting work among students in his interesting country. He will accompany Sherwood Eddy on several visits.

WHEN YOU SPEAK

Our college days are the formative periods of our life and many of the things that we learn here will stay with us through life. There are courses in our curriculum that are designed to give us a little something of the art of public speaking. There has come to our attention a number of things that are essential when you speak in public and we doubt if anywhere in as few words you can find points concerning public speaking that will cover the subject more fully:

- Be prepared.
- Begin slowly.
- Speak distinctly.
- Address all of your hearers.
- Be uniformly courteous.
- Prune your sentences.
- Cultivate mental alertness.
- Conceal your method.
- Be scrupulously clear.
- Feel sure of yourself.
- Look your audience in the eyes.
- Be direct.
- Favor your deep tones.
- Speak deliberately.
- Get to the facts.
- Be earnest.
- Observe your pauses.
- Be yourself at your best.
- Speak fluently.
- Make yourself interesting.
- Conciliate your opponents.
- Rouse yourself.
- Be logical.
- Have your wits about you.
- Be considerate.
- Open your mouth.
- Speak authoritatively.
- Cultivate sincerity.
- Cultivate brevity.
- End swiftly.

CLEAR AS MUD

A visitor to a school began an address as follows:

"This morning, children, I propose to offer you an epitome of the life of St. Paul. Perhaps some of you are too young to grasp the meaning of the word 'epitome.' 'Epitome,' children, is in its signification synonymous with synopsis!"—London Tit Bits.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

I'd rather be a Could Be
If I could not an Are,
For a Could Be is a Maybe
With a chance of touching par.
I'd rather be a Has Been
Than a Might Have Been by far;
For a Might Have Been has never been,
But a Has was once an Are.

"Yes, my love."

"And what did he say?"

"He said in that case he would charge only half of the usual fee."—Normal Instructor.
