Introducing Linfield Magazine

Great changes have taken place at Linfield College in recent years. Along with those changes, one publication is being retired and a new one is being introduced. The Linfield Magazine replaces the Linfield College Bulletin, a tabloid publication that has served the college well for many years. But as the college has grown and evolved, so has the need for a publication that reflects those trends. Our intention is to improve the overall quality of the publication, add color and make it more dynamic for the reader. What remains the same is our mission, our desire to engage and inform you, the readers: the alumni, parents and friends of Linfield College. We hope you enjoy Linfield Magazine.
