INSIDE LINFIELD MAGAZINE

We had a lot to celebrate at Linfield College this fall including the completion, opening and dedication of T.J. Day Hall, and a record attendance at homecoming. Look inside for coverage of both events. You'll also find stories relating to the demise of the Pacific salmon and how one alumnus and the college are combining forces to teach children that college can be a reality. In these pages, you'll find stories about how a summer internship helped one graduate realize her passion and a local company where Linfield alumni make up 50 percent of the employees. There's a lot to celebrate. We hope you'll join us.
