2011

What Comes Next?

Linfield Magazine Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/linfield_magazine

Recommended Citation
Linfield Magazine Staff (2011) "What Comes Next?," Linfield Magazine: Vol. 8: Iss. 1, Article 6.
Available at: http://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/linfield_magazine/vol8/iss1/6

This article is brought to you for free via open access, courtesy of DigitalCommons@Linfield. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@linfield.edu.
What comes next?

After turning their tassels at the spring commencement ceremony, a few Linfield College graduates share their plans for the future. Read more at www.linfield.edu/linfieldmag-extras.

- Yuhong Cao
  Beijing, China
  Chemistry
  I will go to graduate school at Stanford University, focusing on materials science.

- Colin Jones
  Hilo, Hawaii
  Political science
  I will be working as student leadership coordinator for Oregon Campus Compact, a non-profit network of colleges and universities in Oregon.

- Megan Patricia Condon
  Enumclaw, Wash.
  Nursing
  I plan to spend almost an entire month studying for the NCLEX. After passing the NCLEX, I plan on working as an RN in the Seattle area. I am looking for a pediatric RN position in particular.

- David Kellner-Rode
  Wasilla, Alaska
  Environmental policy
  The Self Express bus conversion and tour is an experiment in sustainable living practices. We will convert a 38-foot school bus to run on waste vegetable oil and travel across the country showing what is possible with sustainable thinking.

- Hilda Escalera
  Hillsboro
  Intercultural communication and Spanish
  I will work as a summer intern for Linfield Multicultural Programs. I plan on attending graduate school to earn my master’s in public policy after a couple of years.

- Ihilani Haru
  Kaneohe, Hawaii
  General science
  I will attend Pacific University’s School of Pharmacy in the fall.

- Lacey Dean
  Grants Pass
  Sociology
  I will return to Dakar, Senegal, to work and volunteer for at least one year. I would like to expand my work in the field, gaining valuable work experience that could help me with future graduate school applications and work opportunities.

- Rachel Mills
  Fallon, Nev.
  Creative writing and business
  I have a month-long internship with the Banyan Tree Network in Afghanistan. I will put on exhibition debates, teach debate workshops and host the university’s first debate tournament.

- Christopher Jenness
  Oregon City
  Chemistry and biology
  I am going to Rockefeller University in New York for a Ph.D. program in molecular cell and developmental biology.

- Jordan Jacobo
  Salem
  English
  I’m entering the UOTeach program to obtain a master’s in teaching. It’s a one-year program, and once I’ve completed it I’ll be licensed to teach English/language arts for middle school and high school.

- What comes next?

  After turning their tassels at the spring commencement ceremony, a few Linfield College graduates share their plans for the future. Read more at www.linfield.edu/linfieldmag-extras.