2012

Table of Contents

Linfield Magazine Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/linfield_magazine

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://digitalcommons.linfield.edu/linfield_magazine/vol9/iss1/3

This article is brought to you for free via open access, courtesy of DigitalCommons@Linfield. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@linfield.edu.
Our new plan does not change the college so much as it improves it. We have agreed that we remain committed to our mission to connect learning, life, and community. We believe in helping each individual student find his or her passion and path.

Departments

2 A VIEW FROM MELROSE
4 LINFIELD DIGEST
22 ’CAT TRACKS
24 ALUMNI NEWS
26 CLASS NOTES
31 ALUMNI PROFILE

Features

6 ‘OWNING WHAT YOU KNOW’

What role does higher education play in creating an informed and critical electorate? Linfield Magazine explores that question with members of the mass communication and political science faculty.

14 SISTER SOPRANOS

Chelsea Janzen ’12 and Kayla Wilkens ’12 have striking similarities in their musical successes and goals. But their competitive nature has not affected their friendship.

18 FROM PATIENT TO PRACTITIONER

After a brutal battle with leukemia, Robert Lisac ’12 plans to spend his career in the hospital – this time as the doctor, not the patient.

20 LINFIELD INTO ANTARCTICA

Jesse Peterson ’06 put his liberal arts education to work at the bottom of the world when he spent three months as a carpenter at the Amundsen-Scott South Pole Station.

INSIDE LINFIELD MAGAZINE

With another bruising election season already upon us, we explore the role that higher education plays in helping students become informed and discerning citizens. We sat down with seven faculty members and several students to discuss how a Linfield education helps students determine fact from fiction, truth from untruth. Also in this issue, you will meet Linfield’s version of “The Sopranos,” two young women with remarkable voices and competitive natures who are also strong friends. Another student has an amazing story of survival that helped him choose a career in medicine. And one alumnus spent three incredible months on the South Pole and shares his story of the experience. Linfield’s students, faculty and alumni are a creative, dedicated, adventurous and committed lot who have fascinating and absorbing stories. These are just a few examples.

– Mardi Mileham